PM Not Ready To Back Sask. Power Project

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent said today he is not yet prepared to approve federal participation in the big power and irrigation project for the South Saskatchewan River.

He informed the Commons today he does not yet feel the project is in the national interest, in relation to the proposed share of the cost which the federal government would carry.

John Diefenbaker (PC-Prince Albert), asked for a statement on the government's position regarding Saskatchewan's proposal to pay $73,000,000 of the total cost of $136,000,000—the current estimate of the federal government's Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Administration.

Mr. St. Laurent said he has studied all reports of investigations made of the South Saskatchewan project.

"I have not yet come to the conclusion that I could take the responsibility of recommending to Parliament that it undertake the project—that its value to the nation would be equivalent to the cost to the nation."

He said he will not recommend the project "until I feel it is something I can do honestly."

Fulton Will Tell U.S. Group About Crime Comics Ban
OTTAWA (CP)—Davie Fulton, Parliament's expert on crime comic books, will tell a United States Senate subcommittee about the Canadian law he initiated on the subject.

Mr. Fulton, Progressive Conservative member for Kamloops, has been asked to appear Friday in New York at a meeting of the subcommittee which is investigating the problem of increasing juvenile delinquency.

He initiated an amendment to the Criminal Code two years ago strengthening the law against crime comic books.

CREW MEMBER KILLED, 2 WOUNDED

Plane From Britain Attacked Over Europe

British MP Would Invite Mr. Atom Over

Bring Oppenheimer To U.K., He Says

LONDON (AP)—A Labor member of parliament announced today he will ask the Churchill government to invite Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, American atomic scientist, "to place his knowledge at the disposal of this country."

Henry Hynd, a middle-of-the-road Labor member, said he will put his question in the House of Commons, June 15, to the minister of works, whose department handles atomic development here. "In his question as drafted, Hynd said Oppenheimer's 'services as atomic scientist are not required by the United States government.'"

The announcement came as British newspapers of varied political hues discussed the split recommendation of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission's special security board that Oppenheimer should not be cleared to handle American atomic secrets.

The Times said editorially that the decision "poses an alarming question—can science and indeed other skills where they touch the safety of nations be served only by the equivalent of Soviet man, disciplined, doctrinaire, devoted narrowly to a single goal of power?"

Party Revolt Faces Churchill Over Raise in Pay for MPs

LONDON (UP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill found himself in the midst of a political hornet's nest today with even his own Conservative party followers muttering revolt—all because he supports a pay raise for members of parliament.

One Conservative MP already has bolted the party in the House of Commons with an angry blast at Churchill. Some reports said as many as 100 others have threatened to vote again any decision to raise MP's pay by £500 ($1,400) per year.

The dispute is assuming serious proportions to Churchill and his government.

The bulk of his Conservatives oppose the pay raise plan, while he and his cabinet have agreed at least tentatively to support it. A flurry of political and editorial criticism was unleashed today after the cabinet Wednesday night postponed a decision on the pay issue.

The postponement means no action can be taken until after

FIND DIAMOND 4 TIMES AS BIG AS KOHINOOR

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa. (Reuters)—A blue diamond weighing 426½ carats and valued at about $250,000 has been found at the Premier Mine near Pretoria, the Anglo-American Corporation of South Africa announced today.

A corporation spokesman said the diamond was found during normal mining operations.

The diamond is roughly four times the size of the Kohinoor stone which is set in the British crown and weighs 106 carats. One of the largest diamonds ever found is the South African "Cullinan" stone, which weighed 3,025 carats.

Huge B.C. Projects On Eve of Decision

Pipeline Award Expected in Three Weeks; Power Project Plans Getting Final Check

By TOM GOULD, Times Legislative Reporter

Decisions expected by the end of June could result in the greatest single period of industrial expansion in British Columbia history, and the investment of more than $8,000,000,000.

Westcoast Transmission Co. officials expect a decision within three weeks by the U.S. Federal power commission on their proposed $130,000,000 natural gas pipeline.

Profisher Ltd., and its associated holding company, Ventures Ltd., could start preliminary work on their proposed $700,000,000 metallurgical centre in the north, by July 1.

Westcoast counsel rounded out oral argument before the U.S. power commission Wednesday, concluding two years of hearings.

If the firm gets the commission's nod, over its bitter rivals, Pacific Northwest Pipeline Corporation, and Northwest Natural Gas Co., construction will start this year on the line. It will bring natural gas from the rich fields of the Peace River area through the mountainous interior, and into the lower mainland market.

A branch line will take the gas to Seattle, Portland, Spokane, and other large Pacific northwest cities on the U.S. side of the international boundary.

With the gas would come industry, new plants and manufacturing firms, in addition to valuable benefits to households.

B.C. government officials feel certain Westcoast's application will be given U.S. approval.

Meanwhile, Profisher and Ventures officials are concluding negotiations with the B.C. government for what eventually could become a $700,000,000 investment.

It was learned today the firm has taken over a townsite on the mouth of Taku River, at the head of Tulequa Inlet, which falls several miles within the B.C. border.

The townsite plot has been protected by a mineral reservation clamped on by the B.C. government.

Lands and Forest Minister Sommers predicted two weeks ago that the firm would start actual work by July 1.

Co-Pilot Blames Soviet Mig Jets

VIENNA (CP)—A twin-engined Belgian transport plane airlifting pedigreed pigs from Britain to Yugoslavia was fired upon by a jet fighter near the Yugoslav-Austrian frontier today. Its radio officer was killed and two other crew members were wounded.

The pilot of another Belgian transport on a similar flight said the attack was made by several Soviet MIGs. One report said the attackers may have been from Hungary.

The fourth member of the attacked plane's crew, co-pilot D. Wilson, a Briton, was able to bring the transport in for a successful belly landing on the airfield at Graz in the British zone of Austria.

Armed British military police immediately threw a cordon around the plane which was said to have been damaged considerably. Three photographers who tried to take pictures had their cameras confiscated.

The two Sabena Airlines planes were part of an airlift carrying pigs from Britain to Yugoslavia. The second plane landed safely at Belgrade.

The dead radio operator, Joseph Clauwaert, was a Belgian. Injured were the pilot, Arsene Devreese, and mechanic Victor Sluyts, both Belgians.

The co-pilot of the plane said the MIG jet fighter which attacked the transport had the letters "AVIK" or "AWK" on the fuselage but air experts here were unable to judge from this what country it may have belonged to.

Laws to Protect Canadian Creative Talent To Be Probed

OTTAWA (BUP)—The Commons today was expected to approve establishment of a royal commission to investigate protective legislation for Canadian creative talent.

Secretary of State John Pickersgill went before the Commons to obtain a vote of $25,000 for the committee that will make the investigation under the Enquiries Act. Principal items before the commission will be the Patent Act, the Copyright Act and the Industrial Design Act.

Pickersgill recently told the house the government planned to have the legislation reviewed to see that it gives sufficient protection to inventors, composers, authors, and similar persons following creative lines of endeavor.

His appropriations were the first to go before the Commons in a two-day drive to approve as many as possible. Main argument in the two days devoted to details of the government's spending program will come Friday when the house is scheduled to vote funds to the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation for its domestic and international sound broadcast system and for CBC-TV.

Electric Workers Meet Tonight in Rule-Study Series

Ninety per cent of errors made by B.C. electricians are caused through ignorance of the electrical code, said L. Robson, chief electrical inspector for B.C., when he addressed the Victoria Electrical Association.

The association is currently holding a series of study meetings in an effort to clarify electrical code requirements. Members were praised for the strong interest shown in the series, and they were told by Mr. Robson that it was the largest gathering of B.C. electrical workers ever held for study purposes.

A demonstration of new equipment was given by J. Revill, sales engineer for the Pyrotechnix Co. of Canada. Other meetings will be at Monterey restaurant tonight and at Fairley Technical School, room B16, June 28. Both are scheduled for 8 p.m.

City Actors Drop Dominion Drama; St. Luke's to Try Workshop Plan

In place of a Dominion Drama Festival entry next season, St. Luke's Players will arrange to present a good play and invite an adjudicator to visit the production and give constructive criticism and advice to all departments.

Discussion at the annual meeting held this week in St. Luke's parish hall revealed the feeling of the club, individually and as a whole, that entry in the Dominion Drama Festival had resulted in too much time being taken up with preparations and rehearsals and long periods of waiting between various presentations.

It was felt that the new scheme will develop a workshop that will give every member a chance to study and improve technique in his particular field. Children's theatre will be stressed in the work of St. Luke's Players. It is planned to present several plays this year in this category. First major production of the season will be the American comedy, "January Thaw." Tentative date will be late September.

Only the Soviet Union opposed the Thailand request. That act foreshadowed a Soviet veto.

ANOTHER WORLD FAMOUS NESTLÉ PRODUCT

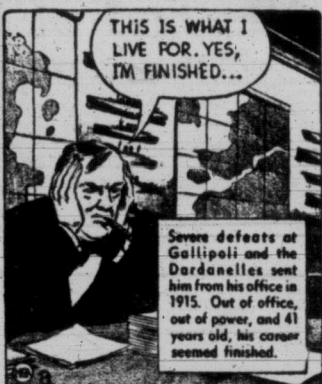

The winged victory that later would become the RAF was Churchill's making during World War I. And so was the military monitor, the tank. By 1914, he had learned, too, that he did his best work between 3 a.m. and 3 p.m.

CEASE FIRE! THEY'VE MORE AMMUNITION THAN WE.

But the war took a bad turn. Airway fell to German hands. Churchill pushed through a "Dunkirk" fight to help Russia cut Turkey off from the Central powers. Four military and naval executives lost both battles. And the blame was heaped on Churchill.

THIS IS WHAT I LIVE FOR. YES, I'M FINISHED...

Seven defeats at Gallipoli and the Dardanelles sent him from his office in 1915. Out of office, out of power, and 41 years old, his career seemed finished.

Canada Will Build Atomic Power Plant

Howe Announces Plans to Produce Electricity Economically; Third Stage in Program

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada is entering the third stage of its 12-year-old atomic energy program—long-term research on methods to harness the atom for the benefit of mankind.

The first objective will be to build an atomic power reactor which will produce electric power economically. Trade Minister Howe proposing in the Commons a major reorganization and planned expansion of the atomic energy program, said Wednesday that Canadian scientists now believe this can be done.

The Commons gave Mr. Howe, minister in charge of scientific research, unanimous consent to launch the new stage of atomic research by passing a bill to amend the Atomic Energy Control Act. It now needs only Senate approval to become law.

POST-WAR RECORD

The bill was one of eight pieces of government legislation passed in a burst of speed at the third 7½-hour sitting of the session. Parliament now has completed its 120th sitting—a post-war record for length. The longest Second-World-War session was from January 27, 1944, to January 31, 1954—136 sitting days.

The first stage of the multi-million-dollar atomic energy program started in 1942 when Canada decided to join with the United Kingdom and the United States to make an atomic bomb. The second stage was the period of transition from the war-time program with its short-term objectives to the long-range peace-time program.

"We are now passing from this transitional, or second stage of the program, to the third stage," Mr. Howe said.

Besides the development of an economical power plant, the third stage of research will include expanded production of uranium ore, eventual refining of pure uranium metal in Canada and increased output of radioactive isotopes for medicine and industry.

To streamline developments the bill proposed that all research and development activities in the atomic field come under a single agency, Atomic Energy of Canada Ltd. The name of the company now operating the atomic project at Chalk River, Ont., would be changed to Nuclear Research Ltd., and the company responsible for production and procurement of uranium would continue to be known as Eldorado Mining and Refining Ltd.

"By this means the raw material and research programs will be under the general direction of a single agency, as now is the case in the United States and in the United Kingdom," Mr. Howe said.

It's expected here that Wil-

Every effort was being made to interest power authorities to join the work at Chalk River. The project would like to obtain the services of more technical men working for power corporations. The companies would benefit from the knowledge these men gained at the project.

Another step in the power field was the planned installation of a $2,500,000 process plant at Port Hope, Ont., the first move to produce pure uranium metal in Canada. The production in Canada of the metal, was necessary to make this country self-sufficient in supplies of the energy source for future power plants.

Canada at present shipped uranium oxide to the United States to be turned into metal. The new processing plant would make it possible for oxide to be purified to a point where it could enter a metal processing machine without further purification. Work would start immediately on the plant, and the research and development division of Eldorado now was studying the technique of uranium metal production.

Wurtele Sees More Good Streets As Outcome of Cost Share-Plan

Esquimalt Ratepayers' Association heard Reeve A. C. Wurtele Wednesday night explain why the municipal council has ruled that road development areas will be done by local improvement.

Richard H. Reeve, former school board chairman, who earlier said publicly that he would be at the meeting with some questions to ask, "as an interested taxpayer," complimented the reeve today on the clarity of his talk.

Reeve Wurtele explained that the council plan was the only feasible way of maintaining steady development without committing future councils to a set course.

The meeting, according to that in order to speed completion of roadwork and because it would take many years to finish, unimproved roads from general revenue, curb and gutter construction in 1954 would be done on a local improvement plan.

Council resolved March 1,

Britain at Geneva

THE BRITISH CARTOONISTS, with humor, and some sections of the American press, with mischief, have begun to picture Mr. Eden as another Chamberlain going to the Munich of Geneva, replete with morning coat, winged collar, umbrella and brief case full of appeasement. Britain's position in the complex problems of Southeast Asia is being widely distorted—even to the point of making Sir Winston Churchill a sudden appeaser in his old age.

As The London Economist observes, the danger and temptation of appeasement in Asia may lie ahead, but they have not appeared yet. Mr. Eden "is trying to stop a war that has already gone on for seven years; he is not trying at any cost to prevent a war breaking out. . . . He is trying, not to surrender a democratic state but to arrange a cease-fire around which some fragments of political settlement may crystallize. If this is appeasement—and the word has a good as well as a bad sense—then it began in Berlin when foreign ministers, including Mr. Dulles, agreed that there should be a conference at Geneva to see an alternative to war in Korea and Indo-China.

"And if the British Foreign Secretary finds himself alone in using the conference to seek bases of agreement and to exercise patience and restraint, then he can console himself with this thought: If his efforts fail, then public opinion in the free world—in Asia as well as in the countries of the Atlantic alliance—will rally with greater confidence and an easier conscience behind whatever measures will be necessary to resist the violent pretensions of revolutionary China and the Viet-minh."

It is perfectly clear, as The Economist adds, that this preparatory work had to be done, not only in Britain but in the United States, before the threat of intervention in Indo-China could be either sincere or effective. Mr. Eden's critics say that Britain alone has prevented intervention, but that is not true. The Eisenhower Government proposed intervention and abandoned it because the Congress would not agree. In many minds Britain has been made the scapegoat for the confusions of American policy.

These confusions have largely blurred the fact that two separate projects are afoot at Geneva. The first is to secure, if possible, a truce in the Indo-Chinese war, to find a line of power which can be held, as in Korea. The second is to organize a defence agreement in Southeast Asia which will permanently hold that line.

The British policy is to approach the problems in that order. The United States Government (having no faith in the Geneva negotiations though it began them at Berlin) seems to believe that the proposed defence system should be organized right away. It feels, apparently, that the Communists are deliberately delaying the Geneva conference while they strengthen their military position and their bargaining power in Indo-China.

There is much to be said for that view in military terms but on the other hand the British Government unquestionably is right in believing that the defence system cannot be organized overnight and that it cannot possibly succeed unless it can command the consent, if not the active support, of at least some Asiatic nations.

As the United States is unwilling to intervene alone in the war, as its prospective partners in Britain, Australia, New Zealand and elsewhere, ask time and the chance of negotiating a truce, it has proved necessary, up to this point at least, to pursue the Geneva negotiations and thus test the communist strategy.

In all this bewildering process, however, there is a factor much more important than Indo-China. That is the unity of the free world, especially the unity of the United States and Britain. Hence there is a time limit on Mr. Eden's negotiations at Geneva. He dare not protract them so long that United States opinion will turn angrily away from Britain at the risk of fatal damage to the alliance, for that, of course, is the cardinal objective of Russian strategy.

Mr. Eden's timetable is thus outlined, by The Economist: "In this present course he is taking risks with Anglo-American understanding that can be justified only if he can bring a truce nearer. At the point where those risks are no longer balanced by a genuine hope of communist concessions, it is time for the Foreign Secretary . . . to tell the world where vital British interests in Southeast Asia begin and end, and what must be done in company with other nations to defend them."

Geneva apparently is nearing that point where there will be a truce or, failing it, some form of united intervention.

Strange Statements on Narcotics

HEALTH MINISTER PAUL H. Martin's announcement that Canada would ban the importation of heroin as a measure to curtail the illegal drug traffic has been given a mixed reception.

A spokesman for doctors has stated his profession can use other drugs and get along without it. An unidentified RCMP officer has forecast an increase in smuggling to maintain a Canadian underground supply.

It is to be hoped that Mr. Martin's plan will yield desired results in reducing the drug traffic, in cutting down crime and vice. There does not appear, however, to be any substantial grounds to expect such results from the imposition of a ban on legal importation. So-called prohibition in the United States did not prevent the illegal importation of liquor into that country. And the application of bans and severe sanctions against illegal possession of narcotics has not eliminated the traffic in this country.

The harsh fact stands out; recognized by students of narcotics problems, that no matter how severe the penalties, how definite the prohibitions against illegal distribution of narcotics, some one is always ready to carry on the trade. There is big money in it—particularly if the traffickers are not themselves addicts.

As long as profits are as great as they are—and an analysis of legitimate prices for drugs against the charges demanded on the black market provide the arithmetic to explain those profits—some one will take the risks to reap them.

Mr. Martin's estimate of the number of addicts in Canada must also cause some confusion. The minister suggests the total is no more than 3,000 of whom probably less than 25 are under 21 years old.

Two years ago the Community Chest and Welfare Council committee set up to study the narcotics problem in Vancouver stated no satisfactory statistics were available on the total number of addicts in Canada. Addicts do not list such information in any census.

At the same time the committee reported 4,800 known users of narcotics—people who had been previously arrested and convicted—were then at liberty to pursue their addiction. Of that number about 1,300 were in Vancouver.

That report followed by a few weeks Vancouver police evidence on 20 teen-agers rounded up in a narcotics raid.

Within the last six months in Victoria four young people, under 21, have appeared in court and admitted addiction.

Where did Mr. Martin get his figures?

It is noteworthy that the same report from the Minister of Health announced that the maximum penalty against drug peddlers had been doubled from seven to 14 years.

Little sympathy will be wasted on such people.

But neither the penal clauses nor prohibition of imports will reach the root of the evil.

On Three Counts

THE ONE-HOUR CAMPAIGN which on Monday evening almost reached the $30,000 objective of the Victoria Kiwanis Club merits commendation on three counts.

The response, which ensures that the planned additional homes for elderly couples will be built in Kiwanis Village, was an indication of the generosity of the people of this community; it was a recognition of the very worthy cause for which the money was being collected; and it constituted a striking tribute to the work of the Kiwanis Club and the esteem in which it is locally held.

All three aspects furnish a source of satisfaction. Perhaps no form of community social work provides more tangible and heart-warming results than that which relieves senior citizens of fear and insecurity regarding accommodation in their declining years. The Kiwanis Village, and other projects like it, fulfill the normal human desire, and indeed the deep human need, to brighten the sunset years of the aged.

The Kiwanis Club is to be commended for its efforts in this cause. May their program enjoy the full measure of success which it deserves.

LOOSE ENDS

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

The End of the Line

RECENTLY a crowd of usually peaceful folk in San Francisco assembled on a Sunday night to shout: "Lynch the Mayor!" Only some great cause could so agitate a populace which abandoned lynching as a social instrument after the gold rush of 1849. Such a great cause it was indeed—the Mayor and his Council had abolished San Francisco's famous cable cars.

For the patriotic San Franciscan a cable car has been much more than an indifferent and more over the years, a sacred symbol of San Francisco's history and greatness.

Hutchison ramshackle method of transportation up and down those particular hills that overlook the shining Bay and the Golden Gate. The cable car, more than anything else, has become over the years, a sacred symbol of San Francisco's history and greatness.

It might seem to carry only a few human passengers (leaping on and off while the car was in full motion, to the alarm of strangers), but in fact it carried the invisible cargo of the city's memory. In abolishing it, therefore, the city authorities had struck not at the physical body but at the inner soul of the community. It had delivered another blow to the American Dream.

That Dream takes many curious forms, none more curious than a wretched contraption of steel and electricity, crawling like an inferior insect among the vehicles of the modern age. But let us not scorn the sentimentality of our American neighbors for it is their greatest virtue. And in due time the great shiny buses which now seem the last word in civic sophistication will appear as antique, absurd and romantic as the doomed trolley cars.

OLDER peoples in Europe and Asia build their racial memories around different things, around literature, art, architecture and ancient legends. Since our civilization in America is essentially mechanical, since machines are about the only thing we have truly mastered, naturally they loom large in our folkways. All we need, in fact, is a Shakespeare to make a Model T Ford a cable car or steam locomotive as romantic, tragic and tender as Hamlet.

No such poet of the mechanical age has yet appeared, but the inarticulate poets of private life already are beginning to preserve and almost to worship these relics of only a few years ago. The battered railway engine, commonplace in our youth, now decorates, as a noble monument, many stations where the sleek Diesel lords it over its predecessor—as in Winnipeg and Vancouver, for example, cities not given to romanticism.

RICH men who, in other lands, would collect pictures, statues or harems, now collect, of all things, ruined automobiles out of the scrap heap. The Model T takes on a sudden glamour among those who never had to drive it, but as one who did in his youth I can testify that it really was not in the least glamorous and none of us regarded ourselves, at that cranky wheel, as knights in armor. It is only in long retrospect, I suppose, that anything appears romantic. The knight of the Crusades, who appears so exciting, no doubt regarded his clumsy plumping—as a great nuisance.

TIME builds a patina on anything. I look forward to the day, not very long hence, when our current automobiles and passenger buses will be collector's items, a few of them doubtless mounted in public squares where, on suitable anniversaries, public orators will extol the glories of the past and exhort youth to imitate the virtues of their grandfathers—our virtues, if you can believe it.

Nay, I look further and foresee a great international celebration when the obsolete hydrogen bomb is incorporated in some towering monument as a quaint relic of the days before mankind had invented modern weapons.

It will stand there, in the full view of tourists, like the rusty cannons lolling on the Citadel of Quebec, while the statesmen of the time applaud the newer weapons, which make ours look no better than firecrackers.

NO doubt most of our Western statesmen will have disappeared before then, but we may be sure that Mr. Molotov, the Hammer made of iron, will still be around to assure us that the Russians have invented something still better, just as they invented gunpowder, steam, electricity, cable cars and everything else.

Yes, in time even the present explosions of the Pacific will appear charming, childish and fanciful and the men who exploded them harmless but odd.

The crowds of San Francisco thus know exactly what they are doing. They are climbing the great hills of the future without a trolley, knowing that the world at large is doing the same, with the dawning suspicion that it may be nearing the end of the line.

CHINA AS SEEN BY NEHRU

Nehru's thoughts and utterances have been flashed onto the bloody screen of events in Korea, China, and Indo-China, with disturbing possibilities for western nations to ponder over.

The fact is, Nehru sympathizes and understands the revolution taking place in Asia, which certain U.S.A. leaders prefer not to. Nehru knows that the Korean and Indo-China peoples were slaughtered and made to suffer with the most diabolical instruments of war, because of the world-wide antagonisms of U.S.A. and Russian ideologies.

Nehru strongly points out, that India is an "independent" and not a "neutral" country, and as such, does not commit itself in advance, to support the power politics of any particular state.

The truth as Nehru sees it, is that some 400 million Chinese are being denied the right to have their people's government and voices, heard before the accredited tribunal of the nations of the world, e.g., the United Nations.

Nehru realizes China is "not" a true Communist government in line with that brand being spread by American propaganda, no more than it would be possible to have a similar type of Communist government in India, Canada, or the U.S.A.

Nehru claims India, not Russia, is China's strongest ally, especially in "no more western imperialism in Asia."

Nehru fearlessly pointed out, that U.S. aggression or political interference in Korea, China or Indo-China, would result in permanent transferring the loyalty and friendship of the Chinese to Russia, which China, previously and generously extended to the U.S.A. Nehru knows that if that happens to China, the rest of Asia will follow suit, and it will be left to the next generation of America, to figure out the insanity of some of their present-day leaders.

Nehru also knows, that any revolution when it is passed and prospered, is called by succeeding generations, "progress"—whether the revolution be bloody or bloodless.

Nehru reminds America, their great country was born of a bloody revolution and his thoughts suggest that he regards Mao Tse Tung as a sort of Chinese "George Washington."

In short, Nehru tries hard to prove he is America's friend and not foe in Asia's present struggle towards emancipation.

How They Make the Rules for 'The Game' in Washington

By WALTER LIPPMAN
From Washington

AFTER the hearings were resumed last week, the crucial issue became more sharply defined: Sen. McCarthy had said on Thursday that it was the "duty" of federal employees to give him secret information, even though it was against the law or contrary to the orders of the President.

On Friday the Attorney General, on the express authority of the President, declared that this was an attempt to usurp the obligations and duties of the executive. Sen. McCarthy replied the same day by inviting all federal employees to disregard what the President had said, to violate the law secretly and to disobey secretly the orders of the President about classified information: He, Sen. McCarthy, would protect them against the consequences of violating the law and of disobeying orders.

Here then the issue had reached the point of an open collision. Are federal employees in duty bound to obey the lawful government of the United States or do they have an over-riding duty to work secretly for Sen. McCarthy?

Does he have the power—on his own private and secret decision—to suspend the laws and lawful orders? Do federal employees have not only the right but the duty—on their own private and secret decision—to disregard the laws and the lawful orders of their superior officers?

Sen. Mundt, the alleged chairman of the committee to investigate these grave matters, wasted none of his time listening to learned arguments and proceeded forthwith to render judgment.

"I don't mind," he said, "if President Eisenhower calls it reprehensible."

Sen. Mundt was able to condescend to make allowances for the President of the United States.

"If I were President Eisenhower or Brownell," said the senator rising to a perfect cynicism, "I'd do everything I could to stop it. I'm down here (in Congress) and I do all I can to get it. That's the way you play the game."

POINT OF VIEW

Some game. If you are the President you try to enforce the law. If you are in Congress you try to beat the law. Looked at from the White House what Sen. Mundt would do is reprehensible; looked at from Capitol Hill it is the way you play the game.

How, we must ask, did the senator become involved in a game which is played according to a double standard of morals, so that what is wrong at one end of Pennsylvania becomes right at the other end?

The Mundt theory is as follows: Most Congressional investigations have started from classified information leaked by government employees; the leaking of classified information must therefore be encouraged in order that the investigations may proceed. Therefore it is right for Sen. McCarthy to invite federal employees to violate secretly the law and to disobey secretly the orders of their superiors.

Now if this theory is necessary, we are in a fine fix indeed. For then there is no lawful way by which the United States government can conduct its business—which is always at some stage of it confidential—and at the same time deal efficiently with graft and espionage and subversion.

Under the Mundt doctrine there are no rules and there is no discipline in the federal establishment. For each employee is his own judge of his own right

Three Men in a Boat

Remains a Slippery Subject

Christian Science Monitor

THE "sea serpent" legend will not down for long. Like accounts of "flying saucers," reports of sightings of the long, undulating, elusive, creatures range from Loch Ness in Scotland to the seven seas.

Dr. Maurice Burton of the British Museum of Natural History has been listening to such stories, he says, for 30 years, and has come to the conclusion that there may just possibly be something to them.

After eliminating hoaxes and optical illusions, he finds that the number of believers in sea serpents is more than he supposed and that there is a certain consistency in their reports.

These "generally refer to a beast of considerable length, moving swiftly, remaining on the surface for short periods, and with a series of humps above the waterline as its most distinctive feature."

This description leads him to believe that the "serpent" may be a variety of eel longer than has yet been captured. Dredgers have taken eel larvae three feet long or longer. If these should grow proportionally to the three-inch larvae of the fresh-water eel, they would attain a length of over 36 feet.

Persons who have seen the fascinating recent motion picture "The Sea Around Us" can credit a theory that the earth's water areas may hold creatures not yet known to man. But as for eels being sea serpents or vice versa, that remains a slippery subject.

DENNIS THE MENACE

From Our Files

June 3, 1894 — The rain slacked several barrels of lime at the n. e. w. government buildings today. The barrels began to burn and loose wood lying about ignited. Firemen put out the blaze.

June 3, 1914 — Reporting the powerhouse at Jordan River finished and preparations to put in the machinery within a week, the local manager and superintendent of the B.C. Electric have returned from an inspection.

to violate laws and to disobey orders—providing only that, acting in secret, he can get away with it and can count on the favor and protection of a powerful Senator.

Each employee may pass on to any member of Congress copies of letters, drafts of speeches, reports of conversations, anything which he or she has learned or imagined as secretary, as filing clerk, as telephone operator, as eavesdropper. According to the Mundt doctrine all this must be encouraged and protected in order that there will be enough leaks to enable Congress to carry on enough investigations.

But is this Mundt theory true in the sense that without it we cannot protect the government against corruption and subversion?

It is not. The first duty of a federal employee is, as Sen. Knowland said on the week-end, to report evidence or suspicion of wrongdoing to the head of his department. If no action is taken, and if the employee believes that there is a cover up by the department head, he should then tell his story to a member of Congress.

SOURCE OF CONFUSION

What then? This brings us to the source of Sen. Mundt's confusion. What is the duty of the member of Congress who has reason to suspect the head of an executive department is covering up wrongdoing? His duty is to take the case to the department head, if he fails to get satisfaction there, to carry it up to the next higher level, and finally if necessary to the President.

Only if and when there is in the judgment of responsible members of Congress a refusal or an incapacity in the executive to perform its task, should a congressional investigation be authorized.

That is not, so it would seem, Sen.

Mundt's view. He seems to think that the first and very nearly the only way to deal with wrongdoing is to institute an investigation.

It is not the first and it is not the only way. Only when all else fails, and there is no remedy in the executive branch, is there any cause and ground for an investigation by Congress into the administration of an executive department.

In this normal and orderly procedure there is no such monstrous double standard of law and of morality as Sen. Mundt finds himself teaching. How can one explain the aberration which has led him to it?

ONE TRACK MIND

In this case, rather simply, I think, that he has learned to oppose but has never learned how to govern. The normal procedure of governing assumes that the separate branches are the branches of one government, and that the checks and balances among them are for the sake of harmony and not for the sake of political conflict in which there is always a winner and always a loser.

But in Sen. Mundt's mind there is a "game" in which Congress and the executive play to win, and according to different rules.

This game is nothing other than the habit of irreconcilable opposition to the President acquired by the Republican survivors of the Roosevelt-Truman era.

The political arteries of Sen. Mundt are so hardened that he cannot change his habits of opposition merely because there is a Republican President in the White House. For him and for a few other old survivors, all Presidents, including Eisenhower, are for all practical purposes to be treated as Democrats, and the game played accordingly against them.

Sick of Sex

"I AM so sick of sex," exploded my friend Mary when I rang her up this morning. "Who isn't these days," I retorted. "Sex and violence. But what have you been reading to make you so fierce today?"

"A pocketbook. An old one that had fallen behind the shelves in the living room. I didn't get as far as reading the book. The blurb on the back of it finished me. Wait a minute and I'll get it for you."

I waited willingly. Mary on the rampage can be a lot of fun. In a moment I heard the rapid clicking of her heels on her polished floors.

"Listen to this," she said breathlessly. "It's put out by Pocket Books Ltd. 'This is a thrilling story—shockingly realistic—of a world in which viciousness is normal. In it you will find Philip Marlowe, Private Detective, and a rare rogue's gallery of unbecavful characters, including: a giant who did not know his own strength; a Negro who ends up with a broken neck; a gin-drinking drab with a fine new radio; a ravishingly beautiful blonde with a rich and sadly tolerant husband but no morals; an Indian with the shoulders of a blacksmith and the legs of a chimpanzee; a charlatan who calls himself a psychic consultant; a doctor with a plug-ugly for an assistant; a gambler; and an honest cop and several crooked ones. These colorful souls are fascinatingly motivated by Raymond Chandler in a tight and tense novel of murder.'"

"That blurb-writer had his tongue in his cheek and was thoroughly enjoying himself,"

Ruth

I suggested. "Or did you make the whole thing up?"

"Of course I didn't!" Mary was furious. "It's right here on the back of Pocket Book 212. I'm getting so weary of seeing that kind of book. Who in blazes wants to spend an evening with a gin-drinking drab or a man with the legs of a chimpanzee?"

"Now, now," he kind and calm and tolerant. "I said in my primmest, most annoying tone. 'Men can't help their legs, poor things.'"

Mary raged as I knew she would. "That's silly and vulgar," she snapped. "You're deliberately missing the point. And the man can't even write. You never saw such stuff. After all, Shakespeare, Ben Jonson, Smollett, Sterne, Dickens, Hardy and lots of the classic writers wrote about some pretty filthy types. But they could write. And their viewpoint was different. They didn't glorify them. That's the whole secret. The author's viewpoint."

I didn't want to be dragged into a discussion of authors' viewpoints.

"What's wrong with this man's style?" I asked, wearily shifting my weight on to the other foot and wishing we had a sit-down phone.

"Well, this is what PM magazine had to say about it. Look, you can forget all the Toug Tommy yarns ever spun. Chandler can take what once must have been the King's English and make it jump through hoops, and can do it so effortlessly that sometimes he goes right out of this world in a bomb-burst of sheer stylistic virtuosity."

"Mary!" I said in desperation. "We happen to be on party lines and if we don't hang up soon someone will make a lot of basic English jump through the hoops and wish they could blast us off the phone in a bomb-burst of sheer stylistic virtuosity!"

3 Carried to Safety In Vancouver Blaze

VANCOUVER (CP)—Two men and a woman were carried to safety by firemen, police and civilians when fire broke out in a downtown area rooming house Wednesday night.

Rescued were W. B. Goldsmith, 42, Tom Jones, 60, and Mrs. Julia Corby.

Goldsmith was the only casualty. He was taken to hospital suffering from the effects of the smoke. He was carried unconscious from the third floor of the frame building by Lt. Ernie Bradshaw of the fire department.

Goldsmith was trapped and hammering at a window when

Evil Weevil Scourge of Saanich Peninsula Berry Growers

Several old strawberry plantations have been severely damaged by the black vine weevil, a new berry pest which is sweeping through the Saanich peninsula. H. C. Oldfield, president of the Saanich Fruit Growers' Association, said today.

The weevil eats the roots and leaves of the plants. The pest also attacks ornamental plants and has heavily damaged rhododendrons this spring.

A method of control has been worked out by federal entomologist, Mr. Oldfield said, and it was hoped by next year the spread of the pest would be checked in Saanich.

Despite damage to crops by weevils and late frost, Mr. Oldfield said growers expect a "fair" yield of strawberries this month.

Picking on some plantations will start Friday, he said.

Communism Fails to Faze Turkey Lecturer Tells UN Group Here

The western world has no cause to fear Russian influence in Turkey, said Dr. Roger Manning, Wednesday, addressing the annual meeting of the United Nations' Association of Victoria.

Dr. Manning, retired professor of biochemistry at the University of Saskatchewan, returned recently from four months' visit to the Istanbul-Ankara area, and in October will pay a visit to the northern region.

With regard to Turkey's position in the United Nations, Dr. Manning stated: "Turkey is one country we can depend upon." He said the Turks seem to have no fear of the Russians, even though their boundaries touch, and periodic Russian raids for prisoners are retaliated the next day.

"They have always been good fighters," he said, and "will face any situation with courage." In spite of the fact that the westernization of Turkey has meant a decline in the power of the Moslem Church, there is no Communism in the country, he said.

United States assistance to Turkey is going into useful things such as road building equipment, farm tractors and machinery, and material of war, said the professor. American military medical men are also offering technical assistance.

"The Turks are excellent mechanics," said Dr. Manning, who believes the people should be given "a chance" by western nations.

In spite of their willingness to receive advice from the west, Turks want no foreign capital to exploit their natural resources. She is building up her own coal and iron ore mining industries, as well as agriculture, Dr. Manning stated.

There is no class distinction in Turkey, the meeting was told, this possibly due to the fact that 80 per cent of the population is peasant. But Turks are a proud people, nonetheless, bearing a dignity which Dr. Manning noted particularly.

Executive members approved for the coming year by Wednesday's meeting include: Lieut.-Gov. Clarence Wallace, honorary president; Dr. Brock Chisholm, honorary vice-president; Mrs. Alan Campbell, past president; Dr. Arthur E. Chatwin, president; Dr. W. A. McElmoyle, first vice-president; Dr. Peter Mar, second vice-president; Mrs. Edwin Tomlin, secretary, and Edgar Stansfield, treasurer.

A MEXICAN LEAGUE

Detroit Grid Boss Scoffs at Canada

By OSCAR FRALEY, United Press Sports Writer
DETROIT (UP)—Canadian football, which has been luring name players north of the border with huge bundles of cash, was labeled by a scornful National League grid official today as "just another Mexican baseball league."

Nick Kerbawy, general manager of the championship Detroit Lions, drew that parallel with the ill-fated baseball raids a few years back as he tabbed the Canadian operation "one destined for certain failure."

"Their own economy, and their own players will catch up with them," he predicted. "They don't have the stadiums and the income necessary to pay those kind of salaries to everyone. And the Canadian players are grumbling about large amounts paid to Americans."

against the peanuts they receive."

Kerbawy insisted that American officials were unperturbed over the "raids" to sign American grid stars.

"Look at it this way," he said. "We draft 350 new players every year. Only five to seven make it with each club. That's about .84 meaning we release over 250 in players."

"Each of the Canadian teams," he added, "can bring in only 15 players—and keep only eight each. You can see there are plenty to go around."

Canada Receiving Leftovers?

Even so, the direct-speaking Kerbawy continued. "The Canadians with all their big money offers are only getting the ones we don't particularly want anyhow."

In this class, he said bluntly, are such as Maryland's Bernie Faloney, Mac Speedie, and Billy Vessels.

"Faloney was a cinch for Canada," Nick insisted. "He would have been a bad risk in our league with his bad knee. They'll pay big salaries for disabled players we frankly don't want."

Speedie was at the end of the road in our league while Vessels was earmarked for Canada because he was sponsored by Canadian-American oil interests."

The top players who are sound, Kerbawy argued, are sticking to the advantages of overall American salaries and eventual future business contacts. One such, he said, was San Francisco guard Dick Stanfel, who turned down a "real bundle" from Calgary for those reasons.

Raiding No Answer to Problem

Insisting that he was unannoyed but merely "calling a spade a spade," Kerbawy asserted that the Canadians are "liable to spend themselves right out of existence for a game which is highly inferior to our own."

"As far as football is concerned, international competition would be good," Kerbawy said. "But raiding isn't the way to do it, as they found out in baseball. What they have to do is build up their own game and their own players."

"Either way," he grinned, "it wouldn't be a contest—and that ought to let everybody know how we feel about it. They can spend all their money for our rejects and the only ones hurt are going to be themselves."

Which seems to set the stage for gridiron world series of words, if nothing else.

North Kiwanis in Fifth Win; Little League Will Expand

Defending National League champion North Kiwanis are making a strong bid to retain honors won last year in Little League baseball action.

Wednesday night at Little League Park, Kiwanis racked up their fifth straight victory and moved into a first-place deadlock with Gyros by whipping Gyros, 11-4, behind the seven-hit pitching of Stan McLeod.

Young Billy Smith gave up seven hits in suffering his first mound loss of the season after winning four straight games for Gyros. After Gyros had twice held leads, the winners broke loose for nine runs in the last two innings to take the decision. Ray Benwell and Bob Holness each clubbed a two-run home run for the winners.

Saturday afternoon Little League baseball will make its debut in Oak Bay when Oak Bay Kiwanis are scheduled to clash with Lions in a game which has been set for Wil- lows Park, Oak Bay, at 2.

Second game of an American League double-header will be played at Little League park starting at 1:30. The game in Oak Bay has been scheduled for the benefit of parents of the players and also to create an added interest in the league. League officials are hoping that a Little League park will be

Arnie Ferguson really didn't need that helping hand Elmer Mathews offered him Wednesday night at Memorial Arena. It was just that Jackie Thompson, left, and Elmer were so happy to see the veteran Ferguson making his first appearance of the season for the Victoria Shamrocks they wanted to prove it to Ferguson. Showing he has lost little or none of his style, Ferguson scored two smart assists as Shamrocks waxed Vancouver Pilseners, 17-8, to take a six-point league lead. (Times photo by Bill Halkett.)

30 Hits Not Enough; Tyees Drop Twin Bill

Calgary 18, 8; Victoria 15, 7

Victoria Tyees returned to WIL action at Calgary Wednesday night. And there was action aplenty as the two teams sprayed out a total of 65 base hits, including 10 home runs, in a double-header.

Victoria emerged the losers on both counts in the games. They dropped the first, 18-15, and lost the second, 8-7, and were outlived, 35-30.

Trailing, 15-8, at one time in the first game, Calgary came from behind to cop the verdict on a pinch-hit grand-slam home run by manager Gene Lillard in the eighth inning.

Trailing, 4-0, entering the fourth inning, Tyees scored four in the top of the fourth to even the count, only to see Calgary tie the count in the bottom of the fourth.

Tyees then scored four in the fifth and seven runs in the seventh. However, Stampedeers roared from behind with six runs in the seventh and four in the eighth on Lillard's homer to take the decision.

HOMERS GALORE

Tyee catcher Don Lundberg clubbed a bases-loaded homer and batted in five runs in the first game. Outfielder Joe Joshua also smacked a homer and drove in five runs. Tom Perez connected for the third Tyee homer.

Joshua also belted the ball well in the second game as he drove in two more runs. However, it was his error in the fourth inning which allowed Calgary to scoring six unearned runs, a big factor in their victory.

Calgary then scored one run in the fifth, only to see Tyees even the count with four in the fourth and three in the seventh. Gayle Taylor, a former Tyee, smacked a double in the ninth, moved to third on an infield out and came home on a wild pitch to win the game. Taylor also contributed a three-run homer in the fourth.

Of the 10 home runs clubbed in the two games, Calgary accounted for seven. Don Hunter hit two, while Lillard, Charlie Lundberg, Elmer Clow, Taylor and Rocky Lundberg added one each.

PITCHERS BATTERED

Tyees used only three pitchers despite the base-hit barrage. Bob Drilling started the first game and gave up 19 hits and 14 runs before leaving in favor of Mike Kinslin. Kinslin gave up four hits and was charged with the loss.

In the second game Hal Flinn went the distance although reached for 13 hits. Tyee manager Don Pries switched the line-up—and, al-

Shamrocks' Larry Booth, who returned to action Wednesday night after serving a one-game suspension, is leading the league in goal scoring, with 15. Jack Northup with 16 points and Bob Monaghan at 15 are other Shamrock players well up in the scoring.

South Africa Beats Canada; Fleming Wins

SAINTS—South Africa beat Canada, five games to three, with one halved, in the second day of foursome golf tournament Wednesday.

Canada lost the foursomes 2-1 in morning play, then came back in the afternoon singles play to a stroke-for-stroke battle with the South Africans that saw the singles match tied at two each and one halved, with Doug Silverberg of Red Deer, Alta., two up on the 11th hole in the last match.

But Roger Brews staged a terrific comeback on the last seven holes to defeat Silverberg one up. The win gave South Africa the edge in singles play, three games to two with one halved. The tie match was between South African champion Alan Jackson and Donald Doe of Granby, Que.

Australia, now tournament favorite after a one-point win over Canada, had a day's rest. Bobby Fleming of Victoria and Bob McElroy of Vancouver were the two Canadian winners in the singles, Fleming defeating D. Hutchinson of South Africa 4 and 3 and McElroy defeating R.D. Taylor by the same score.

Phil Farley of Toronto lost to A.D. Jackson 4 and 3. Emery gave up only two walks and struck out 14 in taking the mound victory. Trevor Hanson got the only hit off Emery, a double in the seventh inning.

Emery also paced the winners at the singles. Bob Gayton connected for two singles. In juvenile action at Macdonald Park, James Bay trimmed Eagles, 13-5. Tom English hit a home run and four singles for the winners, while Ross Ross camp added three hits. Greig Clifford tripled for the losers.

Corbett Nips Wakelyn In Sharp Mound Duel

Righthanders Ed Corbett and Dave Wakelyn hooked up in a tight pitching duel at Athletic Park Wednesday night. Corbett coming out on top as Eagles edged Skylark Cafe 3-1, in a Victoria and District Amateur Baseball Association junior league game.

Corbett gave up four hits, struck out six and walked only one in picking up the mound victory. Wakelyn hurled two hit ball, whiffed four and walked four in taking the loss.

However, Skylark failed to give solid backing to Wakelyn and committed four errors, three figuring in the scoring. Eagles scored their first run in the third frame when Vic Skinner got on first through an error, stole second, went to third on a wild pitch and scored on Ron Pearce's infield single. They notched another in the fifth inning and added the clincher in the sixth and last inning.

Shamrocks 17, Pilseners 8

By DENNY BOYD

Victoria Shamrocks gave the Vancouver Pilseners a little bit of rope Wednesday night. And the anxious-to-please Pils strung themselves up from the highest rafter of Memorial Arena.

Whitey Severson and Nip O'Hearn proved to be capable hangmen but Pils could have stuck their own heads in the noose without the aid of any of the Rocks.

With the Pils seemingly bent on self-destruction, Rocks kept the Vancouver team outside with the result that Pilseners fired a hail of erratic shots everywhere but on the Shamrock goal.

PENALTIES COSTLY
But where the Pils really hung themselves was in the penalty department. They drew only six minors, most of them unnecessary, but the opportunistic Rocks pounced on the advantage like hounds on a beef-steak. Running their odd-man play with machine-like perfection, the Irish scored eight goals while the Pils were short-handed.

Whitey Severson, who has been slow regaining last season's scoring form, hit a major jackpot against goalie Ron Delmonico, who didn't play half as bad as the score would indicate. Acting as the trigger man on the power-play, Severson scored six goals and passed for one more for a satisfying seven-point night.

O'Hearn although he still suffers a lot of pain from his recent shoulder separation, was threading needles with his clothesline passes and picked up six assists. Nip was the only Rock to draw a penalty in the cleanly-played game, drawing all three Rock minors.

HOLDS LEAD
Jack Bionda, who has surged to the top of the individual point standings, gave notice he intends to stay there as he picked up two goals and two assists and kept the fans in bug-eyed astonishment with his fancy shooting and behind-the-back passing.

Larry Booth picked up four points on a hat trick and one assist. A little thinner on top and a little thicker on the bottom but from stem to stern still one of the easiest players in this or any other league, Arnie Ferguson made his return to action.

Working out of a defense berth, Arnie set up a pair of goals and showed his old tricks of ball possession and checking. Fergie hadn't been on the floor for 30 seconds before he had his first assist, faking two players off of position before casting off to Alan Gill for a score. Gill, incidentally, was on the scoring end of three goals.

Gill also was the only Rock to suffer an injury, receiving a slight cut over the eye when he was bitten by Larry Booth in a freak collision that left both players more embarrassed than hurt.

SIX-POINT LEAD
The popular victory boosted the Irish league lead to a full six points and left them in top shape for Friday night's all-important encounter with Jake Proctor's PNE Indians at Vancouver. The only club that has beaten the Irish this season, Indians are counted upon to give the Irish an argument all season.

King Maple, owned by Mrs. Gordon McMacken, won his trial division by five lengths. Queen's Own, an E.P. Taylor entry, was almost three lengths ahead in his bracket.

King Maple was the pre-trial favorite—1 to 10 compared with Queen's Own at 7 to 10—and ran the mile and 70 yards 4/5 of a second faster to retain the slight edge. The two colts have never raced together.

Pancho and Staff Reporter finished second and third behind King Maple. Colliesto and Hi Laude followed Queen's Own in.

CIGARETTE

Hobson's Corner

By G. N. HOBSON

Thus far we have travelled: circa 1915, the Kingston Street Tennis Club came into being and, in 1930, its memories were buried and its doors locked.

For more than 15 years the former best play courts in B.C. were abandoned. Where the feet of champions had danced around grew weeds and weeds and weeds.

Involved in the history of the Camosun Tennis Club, which is still our objective, comes yet another organization—the CPR. Members of this club, which started around 1916, were served an eviction notice in favor of a car park in 1947.

The night the eviction notice was read, all eyes travelled, one block away and settled on the wilderness of the former Kingston Street Club. Working parties were organized and for nearly two years the program of reclamation was carried out. In 1948, a new name appeared on the list of tennis clubs—that of the Camosun Club. Before going into that—a flashback to the CPR days.

One of the hardest working members, better players, and long term president, is well known in Victoria as Jack Clarke. With his wife, Florence, he set the pace for many years. On the championship list also is Eric Cox, Alan Knight, Reg Wood, George Ford and Dorothy Gendron (formerly Van) were seeded players.

An amusing story is told by Bud Hocking concerning the Kingston Street Club. In 1930 he won the club championship. When the roll of drums had died down and Bob stepped up to receive the trophy, it was nowhere to be found. Thirteen years later, Mrs. J. D. Gordon, mother of well-known tennis player Marshall Gordon, located it quite by accident in a local jeweller's window. How it got there and why it was there is known—but only to one person—and he ain't talkin'.

In answer to a query—there is an Upper Island Tennis League and has been for some years. Principal clubs are Nanaimo, Port Alberni and Courtenay. The best lady tennis players produced by B.C. were, according to popular vote, Mary Campbell and the two Leeming sisters, who ranked one, two and three in Canada 30 years ago. When at her peak, Marjorie Leeming was considered to be Canada's No. 1 player.

On the subject of professional coaching, and after interviewing a score or more tennis enthusiasts, including three ex-B.C. champions—top flight tennis will never be produced without it. It was stated that until tennis is again recognized as a major sport needing professional guidance, the mediocrity of former years will prevail.

If this be true, and something has to account for the lack of champions, it is long past the time when something should be done about the matter.

Vancouver Promoters Seek Walls-Cockell

VANCOUVER (CP)—Promoters Earle Kalani and Mickey McGuire said Wednesday they have offered British Empire heavyweight champion Don Cockell, a $20,000 guarantee to defend his crown against Canadian titleholder Earl Walls here July 22.

The offer was cabled after Cockell won his second straight decision over Seattle's Harry Kid Matthews in London Tuesday night.

'TIRED OF EXCUSES', LaMOTTA QUILTS RING

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Former middleweight champion Jake LaMotta abandoned his comeback effort and quit the ring Wednesday because "I'm tired and I'm through making excuses for myself."

LaMotta had been scheduled to meet Ernie Durando next Wednesday night at the Miami Beach Auditorium.

In his last fight here April 14, LaMotta dropped a split decision to Billy Kilgore.

LaMotta won the middleweight title in 1949 from Marcel Cerdan and lost it in 1951 to Sugar Ray Robinson. On Dec. 31, 1952, he was knocked down for the first time by Danny Nardico, who won by a technical knockout.

They Once Worried About Stan's Stance

BY JOE REICHLER
(Third of a Series)

NEW YORK (AP)—Stan Musial's spectacular slugging is no surprise now, but there was a time when baseball people wondered how he could even hit the ball.

When Stan joined the St. Louis Cardinals Sept. 17, 1941, veteran observers took one look at the 21-year-old rookie's stance and gaped in wonderment.

Leo Ward, the Cardinals' traveling secretary, recalled the first time he saw Musial face an opposing pitcher. "All I could think of then," Ward said, "was how the heck was he ever going to hit the ball?"

"We were playing Boston and Jim Tobin, a canny knuckleball pitcher, was on the mound," Ward recalled. "Stan appeared to be knotted up like a pretzel as he faced him for the first time. I remember he managed to hit the ball but raised a little pop fly to the third baseman for an easy out."

"Two innings later, Musial again came to bat with two men on base. Tobin threw him another knuckler. This time Musial doubled against the right centerfield concrete to score both runners. We won the game 3-2."

Musial's stance is unorthodox. Before squaring off on the left side of the plate, he limbers up with a hula-like motion, bat held above his head, hips and shoulders wagging. Before the pitch, he goes into a crouch in the far outside corner of the batter's box, stands motionless as a statue, feet close together, knees bent, body slanted forward.

Most fans wonder how Musial can reach an outside pitch when his left foot is in the outside corner of the batter's box. Does he shift his feet?

"Baseball is a game of speed," Stan explained. "On a fast ball you haven't time to shift your feet. But relaxation makes it possible to put your arms and shoulders into the swing. I use the same foot spread on an outside pitch as one on an inside—unless a slow ball is coming. Then I may shift my feet."

"I've got a mental picture of a strike zone just in front of the plate, and it is when the pitch is there that I decide where to send it—whether to punch or pull, push or slice."

Mossey Nets Five In Diaper League

John Mossey scored five goals for Tigers and Al Spaven notched four counters for Young Shamrocks as the two diaper league all-star teams battled to an 8-8 tie in an exhibition game Wednesday night at Memorial Arena.

In banjam league action at Stevenson Park, Tom Collett and Barry Waters each came up with four-goal performances to pace Saanich to an 11-4 decision over Fernwood.

Scorers follow:
Saanich—Tom Collett 4, Barry Waters 4, Doug Turner 2, Don Craigdale 1, Total—11.
Fernwood—Tom Wyatt 2, Jack Perry 1, Hugh Simpson 1, Total—4.
Tigers—John Mossey 5, Paul Thompson 1, Bruce Beeson 1, Tom Black 1, Total—8.
Young Shamrocks—Al Spaven 4, Al Dand 2, Larry Johnston 1, March McKay 1, Total—8.

CYCLING CLUB

The Victoria Cycling Club will hold its annual general meeting Friday at 8 at 131 Lurline Avenue. Election of officers will be held and plans for race meets for the rest of the season will be made. New members and supporters are invited to attend.

It appears more and more as if this Cleveland team really means business. The Indians like it up on top of the American League standing, and they're willing to fight to stay there.

Wednesday night they fought and won their toughest battle so far as they beat New York Yankees 8-7 in a 10-inning struggle at Yankee Stadium.

A home run by Bobby Avila tied the score in the ninth and another homer, this time by Al Smith broke it up. What made the comeback even more amazing was the sensational relief pitching of five Indian hurlers, who held the Yankees hitless for nine full innings after the six-hit spurge in the first.

PENNANT THREAT

This ability to fight back against a powerful rival on foreign territory makes Cleveland a solid pennant threat.

By winning, the Indians pulled two games in front of Chicago White Sox, who bowed 5-2 to Boston. Baltimore pushed Philadelphia A's into the league cellar with a 9-1 decision. Washington defeated Detroit 7-2.

Brooklyn took first place in the National League by one game over Milwaukee Braves as they sloshed to a 7-6 decision against the Braves in five innings that consumed more than four hours, including two lengthy delays because of rain. Philadelphia Phils beat Cincinnati 7-0. It was too cold for Pittsburgh and the Cubs in Chicago and too wet in St. Louis for the Cardinals and New York Giants.

RAN INTO STORM

Sandy Consuegra had piled up five straight victories, but he ran into a storm in the first inning at Boston. The White Sox right-hander was battered for four runs in the first and his mates couldn't get even against rookie Frank Sullivan and veteran Ellis Kinder.

Eddie Yost of the Senators played his 700th consecutive game, the longest streak since Lou Gehrig of the Yankees ran up his total of 2,130. The occasion was a successful one for the Senators, who hopped on Steve Gromek for six runs in the first four innings for an easy victory over Detroit.

Curt Simmons of the Phillies scattered six Cincinnati hits in winning his second shutout and his fifth game. He's been beaten four times.

Duncan District Power Station Switch Thrown

Improved Electrical Service Promised By New Installation

DUNCAN—A new sub-station that will distribute power to Chemainus, Lake Cowichan, Salt Spring Island, Cowichan district, and the city of Duncan was opened here Wednesday.

COMMISSION SEEKS $500; GIVEN PLAN

NANAIMO—An outline of planning of Nanaimo by City Engineer Arthur Leynard was submitted to council, to be turned over to this city's new town planning commission.

The commission requested a grant of $500 be made for expenses incidental to setting up the commission.

Plans for Nanaimo's new $315,000 fire hall-courthouse building have been drawn up by McArravy and Bailey, Nanaimo architects. Ratepayers will vote on a money bylaw Thursday, June 10.

Proposed cemetery purchase by-law for $55,000 will be presented at the same time.

Lumber Trade Reaches Peak During May

PORT ALBERNI—Fourteen deep-sea ships sailed from Port Alberni during May, taking with them 26,428,000 board feet of lumber.

Port authorities here are unable to say whether that is a record, but it marked the busiest month in years for this centre.

The United Kingdom will receive 17,402,000 board feet of the lumber; the United States, 6,492,660, and South Africa, 2,532,000.

South America bought 1,170 tons of wood pulp from the Alberni pulp-mill, and a shipment of 54 tons of pulp was dispatched to the United States.

Only 18 tons of shingles were shipped by sea, destined for England. Britain also took 276 tons of plywood.

Sidney Sewer Building Bids Close June 7

Tenders called for supplying of pipe and other materials for the construction of new sewers in the Village of Sidney will be received to noon, June 7.

Final plans have been obtained from the Vancouver engineering firm contracted to supervise construction. Village officials hope to have completed the job before the end of the year.

Cost of the job is being covered in debentures issued for $190,000, top bid on which was $103,111. This will give the village a bonus of approximately $5,800 on the transaction.

Debtenture bonds were purchased by A. E. Ames & Co. Ltd., and will carry an interest rate of 3 1/2 per cent. A total of six firms placed bids on the bonds.

New Institution For Delinquents Nears Completion

NANAIMO (CP)—A new $1,000,000 institution for B.C.'s delinquent youth is nearing completion at Brannen Lake near here.

The new cottage-style Boys' Industrial School will replace the congested Coquitlam establishment.

Situated in the centre of a lakeside estate, the new institution will house more than 120 boys between the ages of 12 and 18.

Except for the closely-guarded security area, the unit is not escape-proof. Planners believe that corrective orientation and the atmosphere of the institution will make escape attempts rare.

In any case, boys breaking out would have to move about a mile through dense bush to the nearest main road.

HUB CURLERS LOSE ALIBIS

NANAIMO—Members of the curling club in this hub city will have one less excuse for posting bad scores from now on.

They will no longer be able to blame their performance on the rocks they use. A shipment of 40 pairs of finest quality curling rocks have just arrived here from Scotland.

They had been on order for some time.

The Reeve added, "there are able men on the school board, but they are so torn by dissension that they can't do anything."

Indian Fined For Hit-Run Near Nanaimo

Two Men Hurt On Cedar Road

NANAIMO—Arthur Smith, of Chemainus Indian Reserve, Ladysmith, was fined $100 and costs in police court here Wednesday for failing to stop at the scene of an accident on Cedar Road.

A door handle torn off his car, and found at the scene of the overnight accident, led to this arrest.

Injured were two Nanaimo men, Wilton Foulds and Grant Saganello, who were changing a tire on their car, which was parked at the roadside.

Both men were thrown to the ditch when Smith's car struck their vehicle. Saganello suffered a broken ankle and was treated in Nanaimo General Hospital. Foulds was held in hospital for observation.

Besides being fined, Smith will face suspension of his driver's license for one year.

"If you had been living off the reserve, I think I would have given you the limit," said Magistrate Lionel Beaver-Potts.

According to police, the car was well off the highway and lights were burning.

Falling asleep at the wheel of his car cost Alexander Tomney a fine of $25 and $6 costs in addition to repairs of $75 to his car and $20 damage to a fence that he hit.

The magistrate warned against his laxity, "especially when there is no traffic on the road and the tendency is to relax further. You won't have another chance."

Bus Service in Jeopardy

SIDNEY—G. M. Owen, operator of the new bus service linking Ardmore, Patricia Bay and Sidney, reported today he will either have to give up the operation entirely or effect a reduction in service, because of the few people using the bus.

Mr. Owen said he will decide at the end of the week which of the two courses to follow.

NO SMELLY ONES, PLEASE

NANAIMO—Dr. Leo Margolis of the Pacific Biological Station at Departure Bay is offering $5 for a porpoise for research work.

Dr. Margolis stresses that if dead, the porpoise must be in good condition.

Service was inaugurated May 18 on a 30-day trial basis. He has until June 12 to notify the Public Utilities Commission whether he intends to continue or not.

MELBOURNE, Australia (Reuters)—Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, barred from further access to United States atomic secrets, said "maybe this is the end of the road for me" in a radio telephone interview published in the Melbourne Argus today.

"I have no sympathy for communism, but I have moral principles from which I will never depart," Oppenheimer told The Argus.

Oppenheimer said he and his wife were stunned and shocked by the decision.

Oppenheimer said Dr. Albert Einstein, the physicist, had visited him at his home and described the decision as "shameful."

British Old Folk Living in Sin To Hold Pensions

BRIGHTON, Eng. (Reuters)—Thousands of British old folks are "living in sin" because they can't afford to marry, an old age pensioners' conference here was told Wednesday night.

And the man who made that claim, 79-year-old Harry Clark, confessed he is one of those living with a woman out of wedlock.

If they had married, their pensions would have been cut. At present they each receive a basic pension of 32 shillings. But as a married couple they found they'd only be entitled to a joint weekly pension of 54 shillings, with no allowances.

'ELDERLY GENTLEMAN' PROVES SOLID CITIZEN

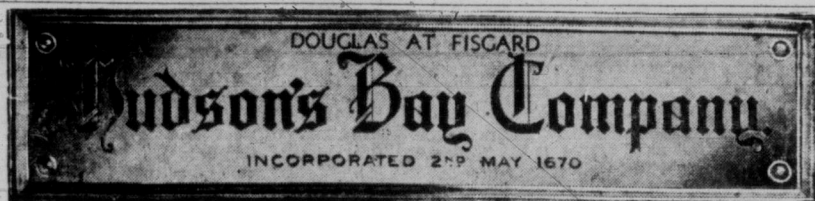

Three of 40 students of Suislaw High School, Florence, Oregon, visiting in Victoria this week, are convinced Canada is "ultra democratic."

The three in question, two boys and a girl, hired bicycles Wednesday and pedalled to Government House.

They were wandering through the grounds when an "elderly gentleman," as they later told it, approached them, leading two dogs.

The students introduced themselves and the "dog walker" showed them through the grounds and part of Government House.

As the trio was ready to leave, they asked their guide his name. "Clarence Wallace," was the reply.

Oak Bay Bans Dumping at Roadsides

Oak Bay Council Wednesday night introduced a by-law prohibiting the dumping of rubbish anywhere in the municipality. The by-law passed first reading without comment.

Rival factions held a minor battle in the Oak Bay Council chambers during the meeting, arguing for and against the application of Miss E. A. Edmonds, 1171 Newport, to establish a kindergarten for five to six-year-olds at 2383 Rosario Street.

A petition signed by 10 Rosario Street residents was attacked by Roy Alton, St. David Street.

Mr. Alton charged the circulator of the petition had misrepresented the facts concerning the type of school to be established. He claimed those who had signed were all willing to sign a counter-petition.

Factions representing the petition immediately denied the misinformation charge and added a further protest against the school being established.

Council later passed the application for the school during a committee meeting.

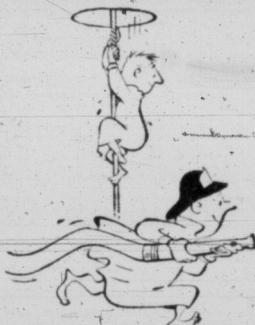

Council also heard resident Jack Lewers, 2120 Penzance, who sought to clear up the question of the condemning of his residence at that address.

"I've moved into the home on the next lot," he said, "and I'll guarantee that no one will occupy the condemned house until it has been brought up to standard. All I hope is that I don't have to tear it down."

Councillors decided to let the matter rest at that.

Canadian farmers have the same idea when they build their barns of aluminum sheet. Not only is aluminum fire-resistant but it also keeps barns cooler in summer because it reflects the heat of the sun; and in winter reflects back into the barn heat that would otherwise escape. In fact you might say that in the products of Canada's aluminum industry are reflected countless aids to better living—on the farm, in the city, in your own home. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

Dropped in at Helmcken House the other day, and heard a rather illuminating anecdote.

It appears that two lady visitors were in heated argument.

"This place CAN'T be 100 years old," said one.

"Oh, yes it is," said the other. "In fact, it is more than 100 years old. Why, it is the oldest residence in British Columbia."

"That may be so," grudgingly admitted the first, "but it hasn't been here on Elliot Street."

"Why," she added, indignantly, "I was born right here in Victoria, and I've lived here all my life, and I've never even SEEN the place before."

"I'll admit this is only my third visit to Victoria," said the other, "but each time, I've come to Helmcken house. And I'm sure it was built right here by the good doctor—why, dozens of my friends back home in San Francisco know all about it, too!"

I was just about to bust a gusset with laughter at the quaint native Victorian who didn't know about Helmcken house when my mother, who is visiting me at present, put in her 50 cents worth.

"I can believe the story," she said. "Why, did you know my son was born in Victoria—and this is the first time he's been inside Helmcken House?"

Exit Roberts, blushing.

As a matter of fact, if it is true you join the navy to see the world, it is even truer that you have a visitor to see your own town.

During the past few days, I've seen dozens of parts of this city and its environs which I've either never seen before, or had forgotten existed.

For instance, the Marine Drive route to Sidney. Shucks, why should anybody wander around that old twisty road, when the new, gleaming highway beckons?

The only reason I found out what a wonderful drive it offers is because I had a visitor who wanted to "see all."

I could name a few dozen (at least) other points of interest which I saw only because I was showing them off to someone else.

If mother sticks around long enough, I'll be able to take over Rebel Howat's job as a tourist guide.

Why, I might even get to see the Butchart Gardens some day!

My mother has just called my attention to the fact my father wrote a column just about like this one, 30 years ago.

Well, if it was good enough for dad, it's good enough for me.

Canadian National Railway Veterans' Association will hold a "Ladies' Day" meeting Friday at 2 p.m. in Knights of Pythias Hall, Cormorant Street.

Prizes will be given, pictures shown and lunch served. Visitors from other railroad associations in Canada or the U.S. are being invited.

University School Cadet Corps will conduct sunset ceremonies in front of the Cenotaph here at 8:30 p.m. Friday, and again on June 11 and 18.

Tonight the Canadian Scottish Regt. (Princess Mary's) will conduct a special sunset ceremony there, commemorating the Normandy invasion.

One of only two Canadian officers in the group, Stewart Kidd, circulation director of Victoria Press Ltd., has been elected to the board of the Pacific Northwest International Circulation Managers' Association which recently concluded a three-day convention in Calgary.

Renovation of what is to become the new home of the Victoria Trades and Labor Council (AFL-TLC) at 613-15 Pandora Avenue "is progressing."

DROODLES

CARBON COPY OF A WHITE MOUSE

This is a pretty unusual Doodle and several people have also mentioned that it's a pretty stupid one. However, this minor criticism (which can be made about almost everything these days) is unimportant because if it (The Doodle) helped you waste time for a minute it served its purpose. Doodles are the new, modern, improved way to waste time and they are catching on from the rock-bound coasts of Maine to the sunny slopes of Ava Gardner. They're becoming a national craze like alimony, and deservedly so, because Doodling keeps you from worrying, relieves anxiety and will eventually put all the psychiatrists out of work. I always say, "Show me a man who can make four or five Doodles every day and I'll show you a man who is unemployed."

U.K. Must Sell to Live—Even to Communists

Thorneycroft, Here for B.C. Trade Talks, Favors Controlled Sales to Red Countries

Peter Thorneycroft, president of the British Board of Trade, said here today that Britain is in favor of increased trade with Russia, items which are strategically dangerous.

Mr. Thorneycroft, 44, youngest member of Prime Minister Churchill's 18-men cabinet, was meeting with government and trade officials here for informal trade talks.

Nations interested in trade with Russia had found themselves in disagreement on what should be sold or bartered. For this reason the trade board head said "a short list" of strategically dangerous items should be drawn up, "and enforced."

Categorizing of such goods, he said, would substantially increase Britain's trade with the U.S.S.R.

Britain's post-war policy of "export or die" had not changed at all, he said. "It's a basic economic fact. We always will have to export." Trade was running at a "reasonable level" in sterling and non-dollar areas.

Mr. Thorneycroft has a twin sister, Elizabeth, now overseas who during the mid-1940s worked in Victoria with the law firm of R. S. Stuart Yates.

The trade board head was leaving this afternoon for Vancouver, then Banff and Jasper. He is expected to return to England in mid-June.

Special Council Meeting To Screen Charity Grants

City council will hold a special meeting to consider applications for grants from community organizations soliciting financial help.

Council has received bids from 24 organizations, asking for a total of more than $25,000. Council originally referred the list to its finance committee for screening but finance committee chairman William Pinfold said today it was too big a job for his committee. He suggested the idea of a committee of the whole.

The meeting will be called by the mayor and each organization seeking aid will be asked to provide a letter, stating exactly why the grant is needed.

In addition, each organization will be asked to send a representative to the meeting prepared to answer questions.

During discussion of estimates, council set aside $25,000 to be used for grants. It has already given $3,500 of this to the British Empire Games.

The Greater Victoria Arts Centre has asked for the biggest sum. It has requested $8,765. The Victoria Symphony Society has asked for $3,000.

The U.S. is endeavoring to re-militarize Japan for an attack on Red China, Dr. James G. Endicott, Toronto, 1952 winner of the $25,000 Stalin peace prize and chairman of the Communist-front Canadian Peace Congress, said here today.

The China-born former United Church missionary was here to address a Victoria Peace Council rally Wednesday night.

U.S. present policy was "to get Asians to fight Asians," he said.

This, he indicated, the Japanese do not want as they have not been sold on the U.S. concept of democracy or way of life.

In Japan, from which he returned last month after attending a world pacifist conference in Tokyo, "80 per cent of the people have very powerful anti-U.S. feeling," because American capital invested there worked on "a short-term, quick-profit basis," and the nature of economic aid enriched only a small section of the population.

People were "bitter" against the recent A-bomb ash which fell on Japanese fishing vessels and contaminated tuna fish designed for the markets there. "It was worse than reported," he said.

On the war threat, Dr. Endicott said the U.S. was "itching to go," but that any such move was designed to fizzle out quickly as neither Chiang Kai-shek's Formosa army or the Japanese would support it.

Chiang's army, he said, would sell their rifles to get in on "the people's" land reform program.

He said the recent attack on the French Dien Bien Phu garrison in Indo-China was reported here "out of all importance." The French claim to losing the "flower" of French troops was wrong. "They were mercenaries—of the Foreign Legion."

Blossom-end rot, when the portion of the fruit opposite the stalk end becomes flat and leathery, is usually found on plants having luxurious foliage. It is believed that the leaves take their requirement of moisture at the expense of the fruit. Any cultural treatment ensuring uniform growth will help prevent this condition, and rapid fluctuation of water supply should be avoided.

Green-back, when the stalk end of the fruit remains hard and tasteless, is mainly due to strong sunlight and shortage of potash.

Blotchy ripening is less evident when potash is available, while rolling of the foliage can be caused by draughts and low temperatures and does not affect the crop.

Alternate periods of dryness and copious watering, a heavy "boost" of nitrogenous fertilizer, or sudden temperature rise, can cause fruits to split.

City Clergyman To Lead Canada Presbyterians

Dr. J. L. W. McLean Elected Moderator

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church is without a resident minister today, and will not have a regular preacher until a year from now.

This situation results from election of Dr. J. L. W. McLean, St. Andrew's minister since 1938, to moderator of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, announced at the general church assembly in Toronto Wednesday.

Dr. McLean will spend most of his time during the coming year in travelling across Canada, and possibly overseas in his capacity as head of the Church. It is customary for the moderator to visit as many Canadian Presbyterian churches as possible in 12 months. Every three or four years the moderator is called upon to visit mission fields in Formosa, British Guiana or anywhere else the Presbyterian Church of Canada is active.

It is not known yet locally what arrangements will be made to supply St. Andrew's with a replacement preacher during Dr. McLean's absence. Part of the decision is up to headquarters in Toronto, which for this purpose may provide a portion of required funds.

Prior to his election, arrangements were completed for a guest preacher during June. Rev. F. Paul McConkey, D.D., graduate of Princeton Theological Seminary, who has held pastorates in New Park Grove City, Detroit, Philadelphia and Seattle, will take the services.

SECOND FROM CITY

Dr. McLean, in becoming moderator, succeeds Rev. W. A. Cameron, 70, Toronto, who guided the 70th general assembly. The Victoria minister was chosen in the first ballot with a clear majority over three candidates: Rev. T. Owen Hughes, Forest, Ont.; Rev. John R. Waid, London, Ont.; and Rev. Donald McQueen, Lindsay, Ont.

He is the second local minister to hold the high office, and one of the youngest, at 49, to gain such prominence in the 1,000,000-member church. A minister of St. Andrew's for 34 years, Dr. W. Leslie Clay was moderator in 1928 when he died.

A veteran of the Second World War, Dr. McLean is padre of the Canadian Scottish Regiment (R).

He was awarded an honorary doctor of divinity degree in 1952 for his services in the province, where he has been moderator of the B.C. synod.

On a national scale, the local minister has served on the general board of missions and been synod convener of missions for several years.

Saanich Workers Talk Strike Vote

LRB 'Baffled' When Council Ignores Conciliation Report

Labor Relations Board officials were baffled today at Saanich council's refusal to take action on a conciliation board's report on the wage dispute between the municipality and Saanich employees.

Saanich union officials said the council's refusal to accept or reject the board's recommendation would not affect the union's course of action. A meeting of municipal employees would be called soon to discuss a strike vote, they said.

Meanwhile, there are indications that some of the Saanich councillors would like to avert a strike vote. Councillor S. W. Brock warned at a council meeting Monday that if a "rigid attitude" is maintained by the councillors the situation might drift into a "strike."

Dr. McLean will spend most of his time during the coming year in travelling across Canada, and possibly overseas in his capacity as head of the Church. It is customary for the moderator to visit as many Canadian Presbyterian churches as possible in 12 months. Every three or four years the moderator is called upon to visit mission fields in Formosa, British Guiana or anywhere else the Presbyterian Church of Canada is active.

REPORT 'FILED'

Council refused to accept or reject the conciliation board's majority report which recommended a 2 per cent wage increase to Saanich laborers only. The board also refused a 10 per cent wage boost to some 175 other municipal workers.

Reeve Joseph Casey said the council did not have to make a reply to the board's recommendation. He asked the council to receive and file the report.

On the other hand, Saanich Municipal Employees Association has notified the Labor Relations Board the conciliation board's award is not acceptable to the employees.

Barrie Gault, chief executive officer of the Labor Relations Board, said today the council's method of treating the report was "most unusual."

"I've never heard of a council refusing to answer a government letter," he said. "They have not followed the normal procedure."

This action was approved at a meeting of the council Wednesday night when the case of Mrs. Harry Thurgood was discussed and members expressed the opinion that "either the hospitals or the doctor concerned is not giving honest evidence on the facts."

Percy Rayment, council secretary, reported he had received no direct reply to the council's letter of two weeks ago to the government that it probe circumstances in the Mrs. Thurgood case. She died from a stroke.

RECEIVED LETTER

Only communication Mr. Rayment said he had received was a copy of a letter to Mr. Thurgood from Health and Welfare Minister Eric Martin. He read it to the meeting.

The letter said that authorities of both the Royal Jubilee and St. Joseph's Hospitals had denied that a request for admission of Mrs. Thurgood had been received.

A fire department inhalator crew and a physician attended but the man failed to respond to treatment.

Police were called to attend Sue Jung Fin, 75, Jubilee Rooms, who was reported to be in critical condition due to gall stones. He refused to allow police to take him to hospital and before a doctor arrived, the man was dead.

Coroner E. C. Hart said an autopsy will be held. The body was delivered to Sands Mortuary Ltd.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Foam Rubber Figurines
Made by Polish Refugees

By PENNY SAVER

Many Government Street stores do the greater part of their summer trade with tourists. This means these stores are swamped with travelers at this season of the year, and so, many Victorians hesitate to patronize them.

Crazy people! If you only knew about some of the unusual knick-knacks and ornaments for sale in Government Street stores.

These things aren't essential for happy living, but after all, you should splurge once in awhile and buy something not really necessary-but-too-cute-to-resist.

Tourists are taking a great liking to foam rubber figurines and I don't see why Victorians shouldn't be just as thrilled about them.

The quaint little men, which stand about 12 inches high, are made in Germany by Polish refugees, and look like something straight out of Disney's "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs."

As I said before, their realistic features are made of foam rubber and are painted with rosy cheeks and red noses. A silk stocking covers them, subduing the red tones and giving a brownish, more elfin-like appearance.

Their little outfits are made of bright bits of felt, tweeds and woolen fabrics, depending upon what the little man is doing.

The felt is used to best advantage in the clothing of the "dwarfs." One is a tailor, another is a composer of music and yet another is busily sweeping the floor. The cap and plus fours of the little golfer are made of tweed. There is also a fisherman and he's really got a little silver fish on the end of his line. The little men cost $17.50.

Ever see any of the "In Praise Of" books? There's a whole series of them, and each book contains pictures, verses and quotations praising the theatre, music, love, humor, ballet, good living, freedom, friendship, the British, Churchill, George Bernard Shaw, Shakespeare, children, horses, dogs, cats, Westminster Abbey, Ireland, England, Scotland, Wales, London, Devon, Sussex, Yorkshire, country life, Kent or mountains. Whew!!! That's a lot of books! But they're little gems, every one of them and you know, they cost you only 75 cents each.

Infatuation Is Not Love,
But It Can Cause Trouble

By ELIZABETH R. HURLOCK, Ph.D.

A person can be infatuated but not in love. The effects of infatuation, however, can be serious. They will keep the person from falling in love with anyone else. A woman writes:

(Q)—"I have a problem that I hope you can help me to solve. Several months ago I met a wonderful man of 24. I am 21. We started dating one another and I stopped going with the other men I knew. Several weeks ago he invited me to his home to a party his older brother was giving. His brother brought in the most attractive woman I have ever seen. All the women at the party were jealous of her and the men all flocked about her. My friend seemed to take digs at her and she at him. Later, she went to the kitchen to help fix the refreshments and my friend followed.

I went out later to see if I could help and found my friend kissing her in a way he never kissed me. She is divorced and has two sons. Several days later, I met her and she invited me to her home. I brought up the subject of the kiss and she said she was just a friend of the family. I am wondering if my friend is in love with her. Should I give him up and start to go with the other men I know? Should I ask him about her?"

(A)—When a young man takes "digs" at an attractive woman, you can be sure that he is fond of her and is probably angry because she does not like him. Your friend is unquestionably infatuated by this woman and is jealous of his brother, who seems to have the inside track.

While she is showing more interest in the older brother, your friend still likes her and is under the spell of her charm. He may realize that he has no chance to win her and that is why he has turned to you.

However, until the situation is cleared up, you will do well not to become too much interested in this young man. He cannot give you his love as long as this infatuation lasts. You are playing second fiddle and that is never satisfying.

Don't ask him about his brother's friend. He might resent it very much and he might break off your friendship. Instead, play a "watch-and-see" game. Have dates with other men until you see what the outcome of the infatuation is.

As a special service to our readers, Dr. Hurlock has written a 64-page booklet, "You and Your Problems." For your copy send 15 cents in coin with a self-addressed stamped envelope to this newspaper.

During his first year, baby triples his weight and grows from eight to 10 inches. After that, he has alternating periods of rapid and slow growth. During the next few years he will gain only about four or five pounds a year. His head, so large at birth, will grow very little. Nevertheless, when he reaches five, it will be almost as large as its adult size.

Honeymoon

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Nicolson, who were married in St. John's Anglican Church, Vancouver, last Saturday, left by air for Hawaii the same day, on honeymoon.

The bride is the former Miss Beverley Louise Dixon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Dixon, Vancouver, and the groom the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Nicolson, 955 Joan Crescent, Victoria.

Dr. A. M. Trendell read the marriage vows in the Shaughnessy Church, which was fragrant from the floral decor of white and blue blossoms.

The bride wore a gardenia white gown of pure silk peau de sole styled with close-fitting bodice and low neckline finished in shallow scallops embroidered with seed pearls. The full panned skirt, edged in larger pearl-embroidered scallops, swept into a train and her petal cap, repeating the pearl trim, held a full-length veil of illusion net scattered with pearls. She carried gardenias with Stephanotis.

Maid of honor, Miss Diana Dixon, chose coral faille taffeta for her frock while bridesmaids, Miss Marion Lister, Miss Beverley Urquhart and Miss Dorothy Wright, were dressed in French blue. Anemones and Poincettia roses were carried by all attendants.

UNCLE GIVES TOAST

John R. Nicolson, the groom's brother, was best man, and ushers, Charles Hayes, Nobel Manger, Richard Martin, Calgary, and Keith Olson, Victoria. Hotel Vancouver's social suite arranged in a pastel floral decor was setting for the reception following which the bride donned an imported suit of blue, hat and accessories en route, for the plane trip. E. H. Watchorn, Victoria, proposed the toast to his niece.

On return Mr. and Mrs. Nicolson will live in Vancouver. The Victorians who attended the wedding included: the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Nicolson; his grandmother, Mrs. J. M. Goth, and the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Watchorn; also Collin Nicolson, Miss Marie Watchorn, Ernest Watchorn, Mrs. F. W. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor, Dr. and Mrs. D. A. Hewitt, George MacMinn, Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. D. P. McColl, Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Skillings, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Burland, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. First United Church Scene
Of the Smith-Bergh Wedding

Rev. Moir A. J. Waters officiated at the marriage last Saturday in First United Church, of Faye Iris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bror Bergh, 302 Beckley Avenue, and Stanley Gordon Smith of the city. Mrs. J. Roberto Wood, organist, played "Because" while the register was being signed.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was a charming picture in her white net bridal gown fashioned with lace panels in the skirt and a bodice of lace applique with lily point sleeves. Her full length net veil was held with a coronet of orange blossoms and lily of the valley.

Matron of honor, Mrs. A. Papuschak wore a yellow gown with matching gloves and yellow and blue floral bouquet, while the bridesmaid, Miss Verna Bergh, chose a blue gown with matching jacket. Both carried yellow and blue flowers. Gustav Bergh was best man and the ushers, J. Smith and A. Papuschak.

A reception was held in Seamen's Institute where the bride's table was covered with a lace cloth, and centred with a three-tier cake decorated with pink and white roses and two vases filled with red rosebuds.

A. Drew proposed the toast to the bride, while her mother,

Donation—At meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to Langford United Church, held at the home of Mrs. Lorne Fuller, Island Highway, a sum of $105 was donated to the church board. It was decided to hold a church and Sunday school picnic on June 26 commencing at 2 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Mosely, Page Road, Glen Lake, and also to sponsor a boy and girl at George Pringle Camp, Shawngwan Lake in 1955. The choice will be based on the children's Sunday school work for the year. Plans were also made for a tea and bazaar at the end of October. Refreshments were served, the co-hostess with Mrs. Fuller being the auxiliary president, Mrs. K. Dillabough who also presided.

If baby is two and has suddenly started "no" to everything, take heart. It's just a stage. At two, this negative approach is not at all uncommon. Baby is having fun, so ignore his "no's."

Lack of Flag
Is 'Ridiculous'

SAINT JOHN, N.B. (CP)—Mrs. John H. Chipman of Toronto, former national president of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, said Wednesday Canada's lack of a national flag is a "perfectly ridiculous" situation.

"We're a nation, after all," she said in an interview. Mrs. Chipman, IODE president from 1950 to 1953, said that if use of the Red Ensign is to be continued, the government should proclaim the banner as the country's official flag.

"The world is used to the Red Ensign," Mrs. Chipman said. "We'll look silly if we come out now with a beaver sitting on a maple leaf." The IODE was not backing any specific pattern, but she thought the Union Jack should have 25 per cent of the design. It could form the upper left section and "what they put in the fly doesn't matter."

How Much Hot Water Do
You Use Each Month?

The Average Family Uses Over 1,600 Gallons

Plenty of water is needed in the modern home... hot water for bathing, for laundry, for dishwashing, for housecleaning... in fact there are over 100 uses for hot water in the average household today, and the average family uses 1,600 gallons each month.

If you depend on furnace coils for hot water, you have a problem in the warm weather months. If you have some non-automatic tank that requires attention down in the basement someone has to climb about 24,000 steps a year.

If, on the other hand, you have a modern automatic electric storage water heater, you can have all the hot water your family wants, 24 hours a day, without any effort on your part. Automatic electric storage water heaters, insulated like giant thermos bottles, provide clean hot water at the exact temperature you require (you never need fear that baby will be scalded) at the low cost of approximately 90c to $1.00 per person per month for the average family of four. Plenty of hot water from an automatic electric storage water heater is truly "the greatest blessing in the home," but to get complete satisfaction you should make sure that you get the right size heater for your home. The following table will guide you:

Minimum Suggested Size Automatic Storage Water Heater

No. of Bathrooms	No. of Bedrooms	Capacity in Gallons, Elec. Storage Water Heater
1	2 or 3	40
1	4	50
2	3 or 4	60

If you use an automatic electric washer or dishwasher in your home, increase the capacity recommended above to the next larger size. In the case of larger homes than shown above, ask your appliance dealer or plumber for an individual recommendation.

Annual Musicale Presents Many Clever Young Artists

BY AUDREY ST.D. JOHNSON

One of the most pleasing events of the late season has come to be the annual spring musicale arranged by the Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club in aid of their Bay Wigley scholarship which is awarded each year to an outstanding commercial girl student of a city high school.

On Wednesday evening, the eighth of these musicales took place in the lounge of Oak Bay Beach Hotel, with Mrs. Norma MacDonald of the hotel, and Mrs. Charles Smith, president of the club, acting as hostesses.

In the attractive, softly-lighted lounge, the concert, which appropriately featured some outstanding students and young adult groups of the city, took on a quality of intimacy and relaxation that makes its listening especially delightful.

Program convener, Mrs. J. Ingram Smith, announced items which included instrumental and vocal numbers in both solo and ensemble form.

Special guest artist was Stanley Martin. Accompanied by Peter Hodgson, he sang "Il Provenza del Mar" from "La Traviata" and several lighter numbers. Each time one hears his rich and rare baritone voice it is a memorable event and a fresh delight.

Bernard Rain revealed his increasing stature as a violinist in two movements of the Bruch G-minor Concerto, with Miss Dorothy Frances at the piano. He will shortly go to Toronto where he has every right to hope for success in his chosen field.

Vocally satisfying and musically intelligent was the singing of soprano Madonna McCabe. Included in her group was an aria, "Divinites du Styx" from Gluck's "Alceste," a Schubert song and an amusing air from a Bach music drama. She was accompanied by Mrs. Mary Wood.

The trio for two violins and piano by Handel and a Barcarolle by Herman were performed by John and William Oulton, twin violinists, and Ilace Norris, pianist. This was good, crisp, clean-cut work with a genuine musical consciousness.

Several appearances were made by the Victoria Musical Art Madrigal Singers, who are under direction of Margery Vaughan and had Elsie Friend as accompanist. The charm of this group lies first, of course, in the truly lovely voices forming it, in the delicate artistry of its style of singing and in the simplicity of presentation.

Particularly lovely among their several songs were "Chanson de Marie Antoinette," a Ukrainian folk song, some numbers by Winnipeg composer W. H. Anderson, and "The Wraggle Taggle Gypsies."

Thanks to performers and all responsible for the evening was voiced by Mrs. Marguerite Laughlin. Following the program, refreshments were served in the private dining room.

Hospital Auxiliary Realizes $450

Whether formed from fragrant gardenias or twisted driftwood, each arrangement at the decorated tables display, held Wednesday afternoon and evening in the lounge of the Jubilee Hospital Nurses' Home, drew admiring comments from the many guests who helped to make the affair a success. It was sponsored by the Junior Auxiliary to the hospital. A sum of approximately $450 was realized.

One of the most unusual tables was arranged for a Hawaiian "Luau" or feast. Covered with the bright green leaves of the Ti plant, this table was centered with a wooden bowl of tropical fruits, crown flower and tuberous leis, anthuriums and gardenias. Hollowed coconut shell goblets were set at each place.

An outstanding entry in the original container class was a black spurred riding boot from which spilled vivid scarlet peonies. Placed at the foot of the boot was a braided leather crop.

ORIGINAL PIECES

A hunting scene centrepiece utilizing tiny figurines of mounted huntsmen and dogs, clumps of moss; bits of bark and sticks, stones and branches from shrubs was greatly admired.

The winning table in the formal table decorations class was arranged by Mrs. Gordon Verley. It had a theme of pastel pink and blue with elaborate silver candelabra holding pink candles flanked an all-pink centrepiece of carnations and snapdragons. Blue table mats and napkins, pink china patterned with blue and blue-tinted crystal completed the display. Mrs. H. P. R. Brown won second place.

Little people created from such fruits and vegetables as oranges, cucumbers and onions formed the centrepiece of the winning table in the informal class, arranged by Mrs. C. B. Jameson. A south sea island table, arranged by Mrs. F. Manning and Mrs. R. E. Whittington, came second.

A bowl of African daisies, tiny yellow candles, and Wedgwood china were arranged by Miss Beverley Bark to win first in the one-piece setting contest. Mrs. S. Vestergaard was second.

HIGH AGGREGATE

Miss M. Wall won two first prizes and the highest aggregate in the floral section. She also won second in the pedestal sections and the highest aggregate in the floral groups. In the miniature group Mrs. E. M. McCabe was first with her tiny china log which held a few thrift blooms and several sprigs of broom.

Peter Rabbit in Mr. McGregor's garden was the theme used by Miss Ann Copeman in her children's party arrangement. It won first in the unusual class. A cocktail party table, arranged by Miss Smith, was second.

Other prize winners were Mrs. C. Campbell, Mrs. G. W. Bell, Miss E. Benson and Mrs. D. B. Sayer. Mrs. J. Malby won the guessing contest.

Mrs. W. A. Trenholme was general convener assisted by Mrs. Glenn Simpson, Mrs. C. A. Brown, Mrs. J. H. Todd, Mrs. H. Webster, Mrs. R. Humphreys, Mrs. Cecil Clark, Mrs. R. S. O'Meara, Mrs. George Duck, Mrs. G. K. Rose, Mrs. Len Acres and Mrs. W. H. Yardley.

Serving tea were Mrs. Gordon Brown, Mrs. F. W. Bartholemew, Mrs. E. Furlong, Mrs. L. Morrison, Mrs. K. Davis, Mrs. C. King and student nurses in their neat uniforms.

Prizes were awarded entirely by popular vote and presented by Mrs. J. Murray Anderson, wife of the medical superintendent of the hospital. Ballots were counted by Mrs. T. F. Rose and Mrs. W. S. Moore.

PTA NOTES

Frank Hobbs—Under convener-ship of Mrs. W. D. Osborn, the Frank Hobbs PTA will sell hot dogs and pop to the children at annual sports day on Friday commencing at 1:30 p.m. Tea will be served by Mrs. C. Williams and Mrs. J. Halliday. Nominal fees will be charged.

By BILL PARKER

Fellow staffer Ab Kent has come up with a new TV definition.

After spending a somewhat hectic night

following the antics of various television characters, and putting up with an evening of poor reception, Ab wandered over to my desk

the other day and asked if I'd seen the latest invention.

"I think it's called 'Tremble-Vision,'" he said.

FRIDAY, JUNE 4, 1954

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) - Looking for creative outlets for your talents, pleasures for relaxation, hobbies for your spare-hours seems to be side-tracked by need to be more careful with your funds, assets. Move slowly.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) - Chance to have enjoyments at home with your family, turning into snag because another person makes demand upon your time you really must consider. Be tactful.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) - Conflict between taking 21st, enjoying relatives, neighbors, business contacts with all sorts of apparently unending chores easily handled by scheduling your hours better.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21) - Inspired new idea for adding to your income seems impossible because of long-standing financial or time demands that keep continuing. You feel you have outgrown or only occasionally need them. Be patient.

LEO (July 22 to August 21) - Get away from home early; it's time you had a change so seek ways early to increase your personal charm and magnetism. Then go places, see people, do things that you like.

VIRGO (August 22 to September 22) - You needn't feel limited because you do not have enough resources to attend to all your duties—all you require is to live each moment the best you can, and all's well.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN FRIDAY
Friday's child is one of those very forceful individuals who needs a carefully disciplined training and education in early life if the energy that is so forceful in this chart is to be put to right use, so always carry through on any suggestion given, and teach that only what is earned by one's own efforts is completely appreciated. Fine chart for any vocations connected with investigations, research, exploration, trust funds, real estate, dealing with the money, property, possessions of others in business.

Increase in Used Car Sales In May Points to Good Year

Increased used car sales during May are reported by leading Victoria dealers.

Volume of sales compared with April's trade has been normal for this time of year, a Times survey shows, although the trend is not generally upward.

Sale of used cars normally increases during summer months, but some firms report a mild slackening in May, which can be attributed to the type of automobile in demand and the cool weather of late spring.

Court Dismisses Damage Action In Traffic Death

A damage action against Percy D. Gill, 1179 Fort Street, who was sued for $3,600 in the traffic death of Nicholas Seginowich, was dismissed by Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane in Supreme Court Wednesday.

OUTLOOK GOOD

One dealer said there had been "great improvement" over April, with volume "practically doubled." He said the outlook for the summer months in both new and used cars should be "prosperous."

Another stated that there is no reason to believe there will be a slackening in the immediate future. Trade had been "very well" in May, he said.

June, July and August are expected by one firm to be good months for the sale of used cars. This dealer said that local conditions are apt to be some what different from the general Canadian report for May, which was "substantially better" than April's. He said this was due to the large number of used cars in Victoria.

One local dealer said that the last few days of May showed "a picking up" in used car sales, and looked forward to as hope-

Truck Underpass Mishap Is Costly

Earl Charles Brathwaite paid $10 in Colwood Court Tuesday for employing a driver who did not have a chauffeur's license. His son, Donald Earl, paid $10 for failing to have the license when in charge of a logging truck and an additional $25 for carrying a load in excess of the height limit. All three charges were paid after

Careless Driver Fined

Damage amounted to $650 when Robert J. MacFarlane, HMCS Naden failed to see a stop sign at Cook and Yates recently and caused a collision. He was fined $35 Wednesday in court on a charge of careless driving and Magistrate H. C. Hall said he would recommend a license suspension.

Claxton Supports Navy Order

OTTAWA (CP). — Defense Minister Claxton said today the government supports the views of a top naval officer who said in Quebec last week it is essential French-language naval personnel learn the English language.

Mr. Claxton, replying to a question posed Friday by J. Wilfrid Dufresne (P.C. Quebec West), said no one but the government expresses government policy.

However, since war operations required orders in one language, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization had selected the English language. Canada, as a NATO member, must adhere to that policy.

He said he has seen four different newspaper reports of a press conference given May 27 in Quebec by Commodore K. F. Adams, chief of naval divisions of the Royal Canadian Navy. No two of the reports were the same.

THEY'RE SAME EXCEPT FOR NAME, FAME

Notice to autograph hunters who wish to add the signature of famed biologist and oceanographer Prof. Jean Piccard to their collections:

Don't bother chasing the government hydrographic survey ship Marabel up and down—Trincomali—channel, where she is on routine operations this week.

Rumors to the contrary, Prof. Piccard is not aboard. However, another distinguished oceanographer, who is somewhat less famous, is in the ship.

He is Dr. George L. Piccard of the Institute of Oceanography, University of British Columbia.

The UBC scientist has a "K" instead of "C" in the middle of his name—and not nearly as much hair as the European professor.

Wife Changes Her Mind But Saxton Booked Anyway

NEW YORK (AP). — Johnny Saxton, 23-year-old welterweight boxer, was booked Wednesday night on an anti-weapons charge after he allegedly used a loaded .38-calibre revolver to threaten his bride of a few months.

Mrs. Saxton telephoned police but when they arrived she refused to press assault charges against her husband.

Having no license to keep the revolver, Saxton was booked on violation of the Sullivan law.

PM Not Ready To Back Sask. Power Project

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent said today he is not yet prepared to approve federal participation in the big power and irrigation project for the South Saskatchewan River.

He informed the Commons today he does not yet feel the project is in the national interest, in relation to the proposed share of the cost which the federal government would carry.

John Diefenbaker (PC-Prince Albert), asked for a statement on the government's position regarding Saskatchewan's proposal to pay $73,000,000 of the total cost of $136,000,000—the current estimate of the federal government's Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Administration.

Mr. St. Laurent said he has studied all reports of investigations made of the South Saskatchewan project.

"I have not yet come to the conclusion that I could take the responsibility of recommending to Parliament that it undertake the project—that its value to the nation would be equivalent to the cost to the nation."

Fulton Will Tell U.S. Group About Crime Comics Ban

Mr. Fulton, Progressive Conservative member for Kamloops, has been asked to appear Friday in New York at a meeting of the sub-committee which is investigating the problem of increasing juvenile delinquency. He initiated an amendment to the Criminal Code two years ago strengthening the law against crime comic books.

British MP Would Invite Mr. Atom Over

Invite Oppenheimer To U.K., He Says

LONDON (AP)—A Labor member of parliament announced today he will ask the Churchill government to invite Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, American atomic scientist, "to place his knowledge at the disposal of this country."

Henry Hynd, a middle-of-the-road Labor member, said he will put his question in the House of Commons, June 15 to the minister of works, whose department handles atomic development here. In his question as drafted, Hynd said Oppenheimer's "services as atomic scientist are not required by the United States government."

The announcement came as British newspapers of varied political hues discussed the split recommendation of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission's special security board that Oppenheimer should not be cleared to handle American atomic secrets.

The Times said editorially that the decision "poses an alarming question—can science and indeed other skills, where they touch the safety of nations be served only by the equivalent of Soviet man, disciplined, doctrinaire, devoted narrowly to a single goal of power?"

Party Revolt Faces Churchill Over Raise in Pay for MPs

LONDON (UP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill found himself in the midst of a political hornet's nest today with even his own Conservative party followers muttering revolt—all because he supports a pay raise for members of parliament.

One Conservative MP already had bolted the party in the House of Commons with an angry blast at Churchill. Some reports said as many as 100 others have threatened to vote again any decision to raise MP's pay by £500 ($1,400) per year.

The dispute is assuming serious proportions to Churchill and his government.

The bulk of his Conservatives oppose the pay raise plan, while he and his cabinet have agreed at least tentatively to support it. A flurry of political and editorial criticism was unleashed today after the cabinet Wednesday night postponed a decision on the pay issue.

The postponement means no action can be taken until after

FIND DIAMOND 4 TIMES AS BIG AS KOHINOOR

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (Reuters)—A blue diamond weighing 426½ carats and valued at about $250,000 has been found at the Premier Mine near Pretoria, the Anglo-American Corporation of South Africa announced today.

A corporation spokesman said the diamond was found during normal mining operations.

The diamond is roughly four times the size of the Kohinoor stone which is set in the British crown and weighs 106 carats. One of the largest diamonds ever found is the South African "Cullinan" stone, which weighed 3,025 carats.

Pipeline Award Expected in Three Weeks; Power Project Plans Getting Final Check

By TOM GOULD, Times Legislative Reporter

Decisions expected by the end of June could result in the greatest single period of industrial expansion in British Columbia history, and the investment of more than $8,000,000,000.

Westcoast Transmission Co. officials expect a decision within three weeks by the U.S. Federal power commission on their proposed $130,000,000 natural gas pipeline.

Frobisher Ltd. and its associated holding company, Ventures Ltd., could start preliminary work on their proposed $70,000,000 metallurgical centre in the north, by July 1.

Westcoast counsel rounded out oral argument before the U.S. power commission Wednesday, concluding two years of hearings.

If the firm gets the commission's nod, over its bitter rivals, Pacific Northwest Pipeline Corporation, and Northwest Natural Gas Co., construction will start this year on the line.

It will bring natural gas from the rich fields of the Peace River area through the mountainous interior, and into the lower mainland market.

A branch line will take the gas to Seattle, Portland, Spokane, and other large Pacific northwest cities on the U.S. side of the international boundary.

NEW PLANTS, FIRMS
With the gas would come industry, new plants and manufacturing firms, in addition to valuable benefits to households.

B.C. government officials feel certain Westcoast's application will be given U.S. approval.

Meanwhile, Frobisher and Ventures officials are concluding negotiations with the B.C. government for what eventually could become a $700,000,000 investment.

It was learned today the firm has taken over a townsite on the mouth of Taku River, at the head of Takuqua Inlet, which falls several miles within the B.C. border.

The townsite plot has been protected by a mineral reservation clamped on by the B.C. government.

Lands and Forest Minister Sommers predicted two weeks ago that the firm would start actual work by July 1.

Co-Pilot Blames Soviet Mig Jets

VIENNA (CP)—A twin-engined Belgian transport plane airlifting pedigreed pigs from Britain to Yugoslavia was fired upon by a jet fighter near the Yugoslav-Austrian frontier today. Its radio officer was killed and two other crew members were wounded.

The pilot of another Belgian transport on a similar flight said the attack was made by several Soviet MIGs. One report said the attackers may have been from Hungary.

The fourth member of the attacked plane's crew, co-pilot D. Wilson, a Briton, was able to bring the transport in for a successful belly landing on the airfield at Graz in the British zone of Austria.

Armed British military police immediately threw a cordon around the plane which was said to have been damaged considerably. Three photographers who tried to take pictures had their cameras confiscated.

The two Sabena Airlines planes were part of an airlift carrying pigs from Britain to Yugoslavia. The second plane landed safely at Belgrade.

The dead radio operator, Joseph Clauwaert, was a Belgian. Injured were the pilot, Arsene Devresse, and mechanic Victor Sluyts, both Belgians.

The co-pilot of the plane said the MIG jet fighter which attacked the transport had the letters "AVK" or "AWK" on the fuselage but air experts here were unable to judge from this what country it may have belonged to.

The attack follows the pattern of a similar one staged against another "pig transport" last Jan. 1. A British pilot returning from a pig run into Yugoslavia reported that fighters had attacked him in the same area. He reached base safely.

The British co-pilot said the incident took place at Murska Sobota, only 12 miles from the Hungarian border.

"The Belgian legation at Belgrade quoted the crew of the second plane as having intercepted a message from the attacked plane saying Soviet fighters were after it. However, the pilot of the second plane did not see the attack and knew nothing about it except what he heard on his radio.

The "piglift" was organized by a London firm of meat exporters to fly out 1,200 white pedigreed pigs bought by a Yugoslav trade mission here.

Eyewitnesses said the plane was peppered with holes. The co-pilot of the plane said the MIG jet fighter which attacked the transport had the letters "AVK" or "AWK" on the fuselage but air experts here were unable to judge from this what country it may have belonged to.

Decisions expected by the end of June could result in the greatest single period of industrial expansion in British Columbia history, and the investment of more than $800,000,000.

Westcoast Transmission Co. officials expect a decision within three weeks by the U.S. Federal power commission on their proposed $130,000,000 natural gas pipeline.

Frobisher Ltd., and its associated holding company, Ventures Ltd., could start preliminary work on their proposed $700,000,000 metallurgical centre in the north by July 1.

Westcoast counsel rounded out oral argument before the U.S. power commission Wednesday, concluding two years of hearings.

If the firm gets the commission's nod, over its bitter rivals, Pacific Northwest Pipeline Corporation, and Northwest Natural Gas Co., construction will start this year on the line. It will bring natural gas from the rich fields of the Peace River area through the mountainous interior, and into the lower mainland market.

Secret Asia
Defense Talk
Held By Allies

WASHINGTON (UP).—The military leaders of five Allied nations launched secret conferences here today to study the arms and forces they would need in any "united action" to stem Communist aggression in Southeast Asia.

The beribboned officers, representing the U.S., Britain, France, Australia and New Zealand, labeled their talks "strictly exploratory" and "strictly military."

But their survey of the admittedly worsening situation is expected to figure in the current tense Allied debate over where to intervene directly in the Indo-China war.

The conversations, expected to last about a week, were devoted today mainly to working out an agenda. The hard work is expected to begin tomorrow.

Representing the United States is Adm. Robert B. Carney, chief of naval operations. Other leaders at the conference are: Field Marshal Sir John Harding of Britain; Gen. Paul Ely of France, Lt. Gen. Sir Sydney Rowell of Australia, and Maj. Gen. W. G. Gentry of New Zealand.

Crew Member Killed, Two Wounded; Co-Pilot Blames Soviet Mig-Jets

VIENNA (CP).—A twin-engine, Belgian transport plane airlifting pigged pigs from Britain to Yugoslavia was fired upon by a jet fighter near the Yugoslav-Austrian frontier today. Its radio officer was killed and two other crew members were wounded.

The pilot of another Belgian transport on a similar flight said the attack was made by several Soviet Mig's. One report said the attackers may have been from Hungary.

The fourth member of the attacked plane's crew, co-pilot D. Wilson, a Briton, was able to bring the transport in for a successful belly landing on the airfield at Graz in the British zone of Austria.

Armed British military police immediately threw a cordon around the plane which was said to have been damaged considerably. Three photographs of the plane were confiscated.

McCarthyism Charge
Draws Reply From PM

OTTAWA (CP).—Prime Minister St. Laurent said today the government assumes that foreign powers are trying to get confidential information.

He told the Commons that the government is guarding against that possibility by screening civil servants in responsible posts.

There could be no question about exonerating a civil servant when the cabinet minister responsible for his actions had serious and honest doubts about his reliability.

Mr. St. Laurent made the statement in reply to a charge by Davie Fulton (PC, Kamloops) that the screening system is open to the abuse of McCarthyism.

Mr. Fulton criticized the government's refusal to give information about numbers of civil servants dismissed or transferred as security risks.

The screening system, he said, has all the elements which make it potentially unfair to civil servants investigated. They had no right of appeal and the government was accepting the principle of guilt by association.

Mr. Fulton, who has sought information previously this session on the screening program, referred to a statement March 3 by Trade Minister Howe that the government abhorred McCarthyism.

Mr. Fulton said Mr. Howe's statement carried the suggestion that any person who tried to get information about the screening system was guilty of McCarthyism.

"If there is any likelihood of McCarthyism, it is made more probable by the course of action which the government is taking."

Mr. Fulton said the Commons has been given little information about the workings of the system. What had been given showed that in investigating civil servants, association with others suspected or known to be disloyal was taken into account. It also showed civil servants were not allowed an opportunity to clear themselves of suspicion.

Mr. Fulton said government secrecy does not permit Parliament to determine the effectiveness of loyalty checks. If the screen was effective, there was no reason results should not be made known.

The government even denied information about persons conducting the security checks.
